BREAKING THROUGH

The Big Decision

Making the decision to break into the adult world is a hard thing to do. Most high school students find this the hardest decision that they will ever make. High school prepares students for this step up into the business world. It helps them face the problems that they may run into later on in life. Graduating students have to be mature enough to make the right decision and begin their lives on the right foot. Although most students know what they want to do when they finish school, over half of them will change their majors at one time or another. Some may change several times until they figure out what is best for them. Jobs are available to the people who want to work and if students can make that initial step into the business world, than they will be successful.

TRACY RITCH STOPPED at her locker to cut down on her book load and to sneak one more look at her poster.

STEPHANIE WINN RECEIVED a football signed by the senior players and Coach Slack. Stephanie was Airline's Football Sweetheart.

AHS PEP SQUAD sweated out the humidity and the heat and cheered on the Vikings during a football game.

BREAKING THROUGH

A Choice To Make

Down a hall we have to walk; many doors on either side.
We must pick the doors that open and often dare to go inside.
Life is not an open door placed among us where we can see.
It is just an open field where only we can find the key.
We will go our separate ways sometimes losing in our quest.
But we'll still have the memories that helped us grow to be the best.
We have goals that we must conquer; all we can do at best is try.
For in our hearts we are the Vikings ever growing ne'er to die.

- Kristin Webb

MELISSA COOPER AND Suzanne Grigsby enthusiastically displayed their high kicks.

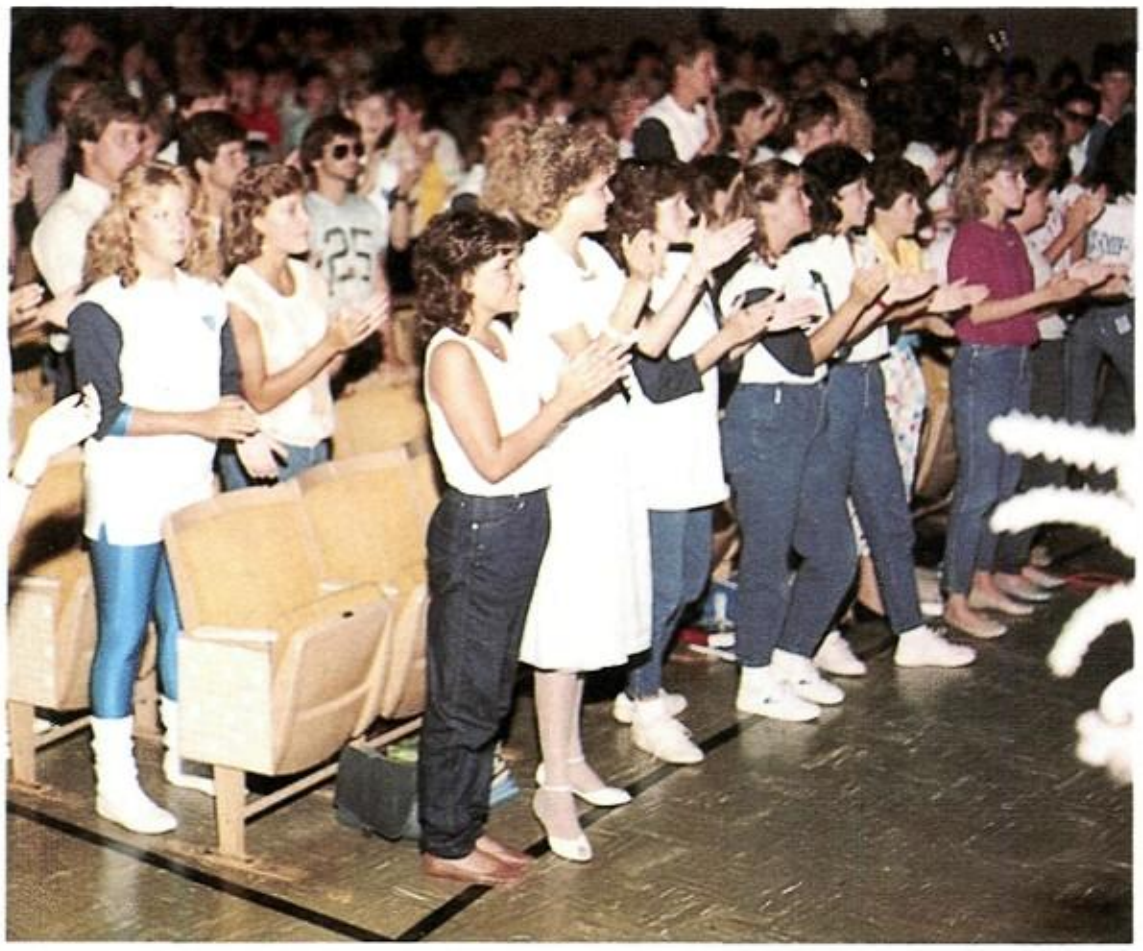
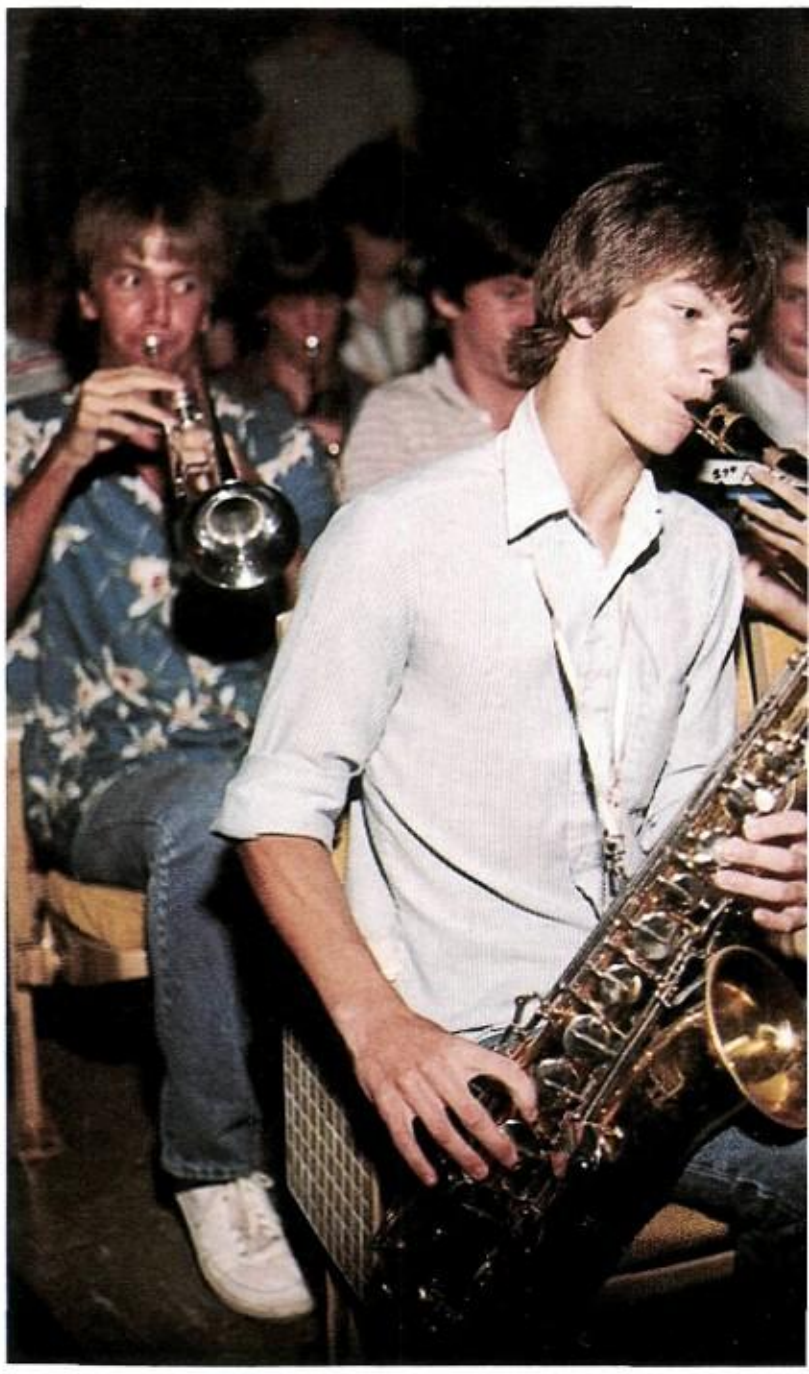
STUDENTS APPLAUDED DURING the opening assembly.



TIM DARDEN CONCENTRATED on his part while playing at an assembly.

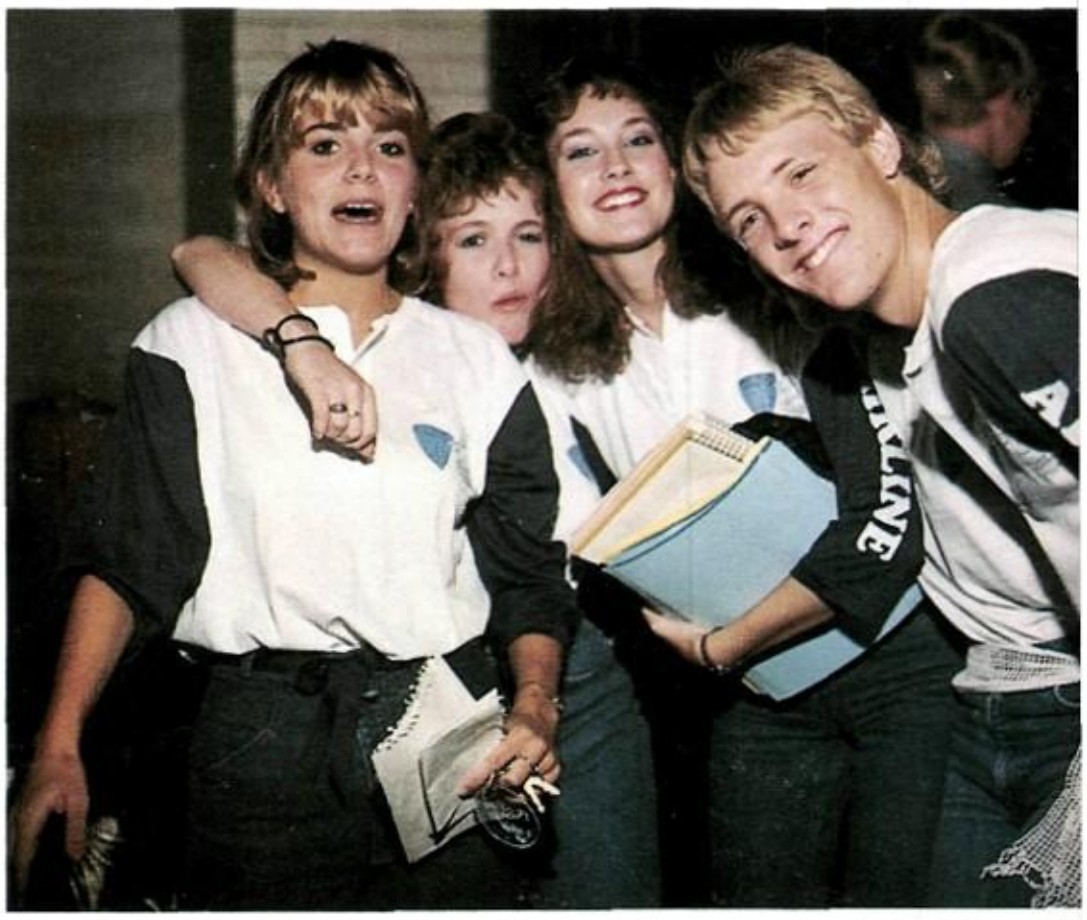


STUDENT COUNCIL MEMBERS and cheerleaders joined arms and sang the Alma Mater.

RUSS HARRIS CONCENTRATED on keeping up the beat.

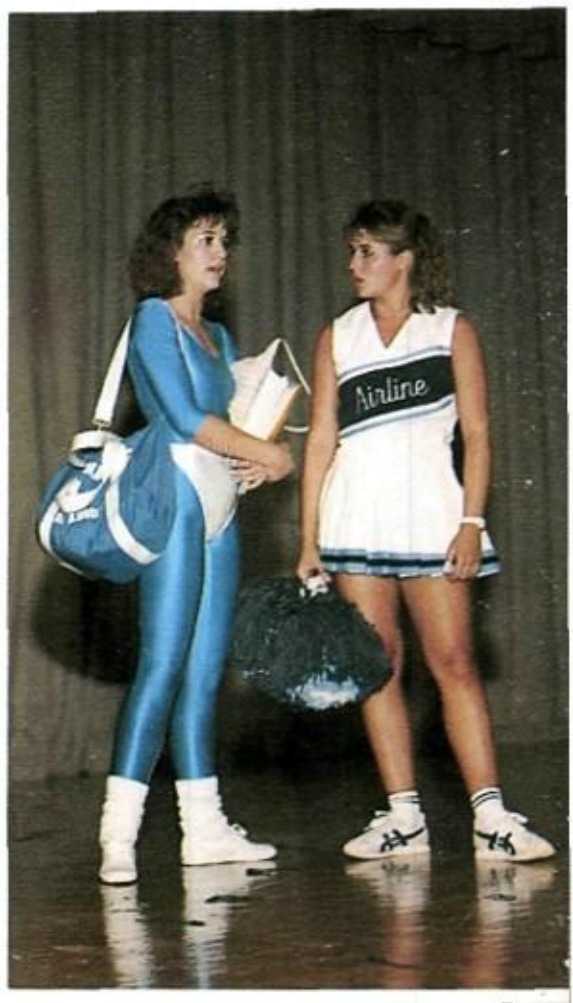
MARNIE MARLAR DANCED exuberantly during the opening assembly

STEPHANIE WINN, RHONDA Neil, Marshelle Alexander and Chris Hammons clowned around.



Vikes Took A Break From Class

Students were called to the auditorium for an assembly the first week of school. The cheerleaders and danceline performed, and the Student Council was in charge of the rest. Assemblies were usually called to make announcements or to introduce a special guest. Dr. Haley always had something very important to tell us. Students liked assemblies because they got out of their regularly scheduled classes. Assemblies were fun????



KRISTI AND KARLA Mitchell discussed their performances after the assembly.

AHS CHEERLEADERS PERFORMED for students at the opening assembly.

GENIA JOHNSON AND JOHN Lechman, seniors, showed off their plastic bracelets and Swatches.

TAMMY CORLEY, SENIOR, modeled a hot pink Mexican dress and white Roman sandals.

Good Fashion Sense

Every morning AHS students got out of bed ready to get dressed for school only to ask, "What am I going to wear?" This was the most important question asked by students. Students wore a variety of outfits. Some wore jeans and sweatshirts, others wore blouses and skirts. Sometimes mini-skirts or shorts were worn, but they had to reach the knee. Most students wore whatever suited them or fit their personalities, whether conservative or punk.

SONYA GILCREASE, SENIOR displayed her "tail" at a pep rally.

PATTY PEEBLES FLAUNTED her numerous metal bracelets.

MARSHELLE ALEXANDER WORE her senior shirt to show her support for the Class of '86.

ANGIE GILMER ATTEMPTED to put on her eye make-up while walking to her next class.

KEITH ODEN DECIDED to wear his favorite outfit to show his school spirit.

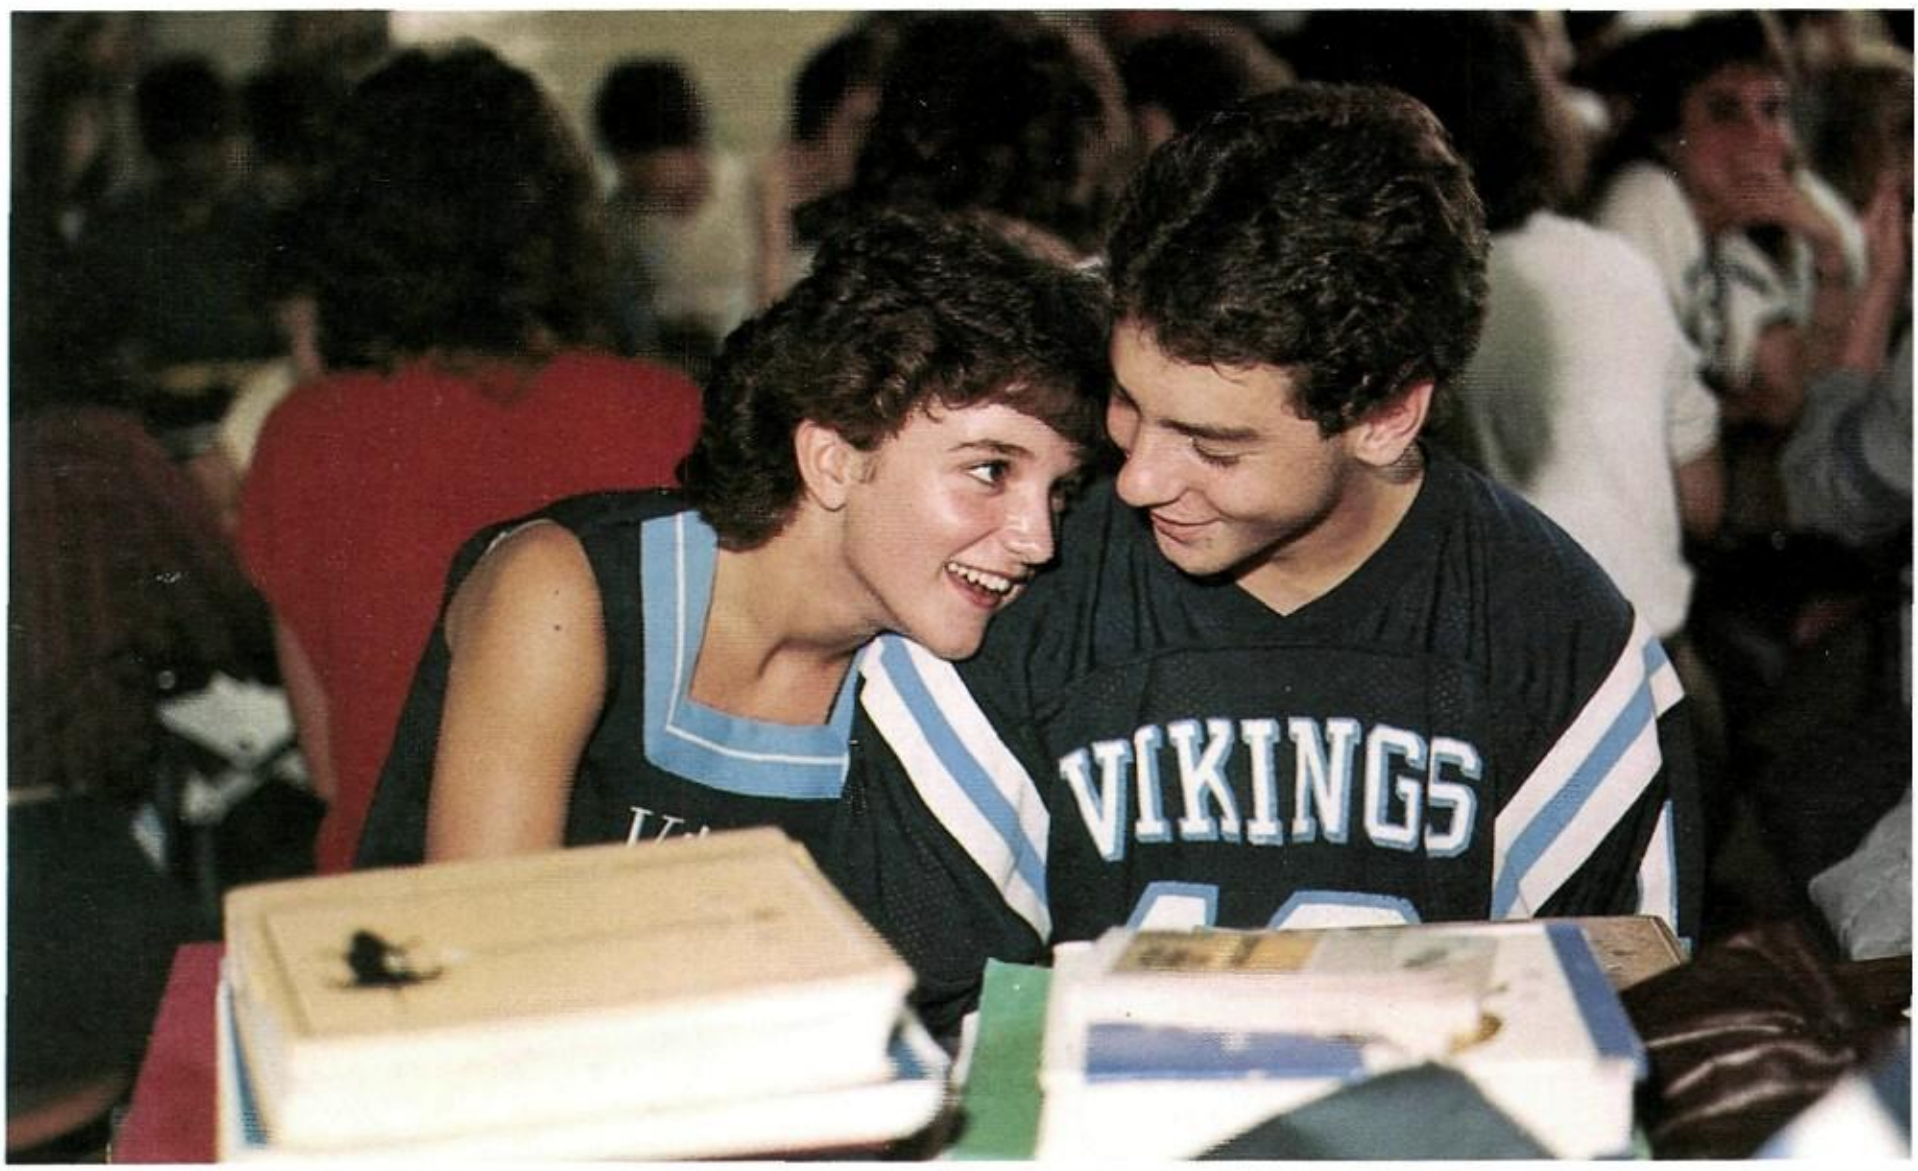
TRACY ELLIOTT PROVED that big sweaters and mini-skirts are hazardous with a load of books.

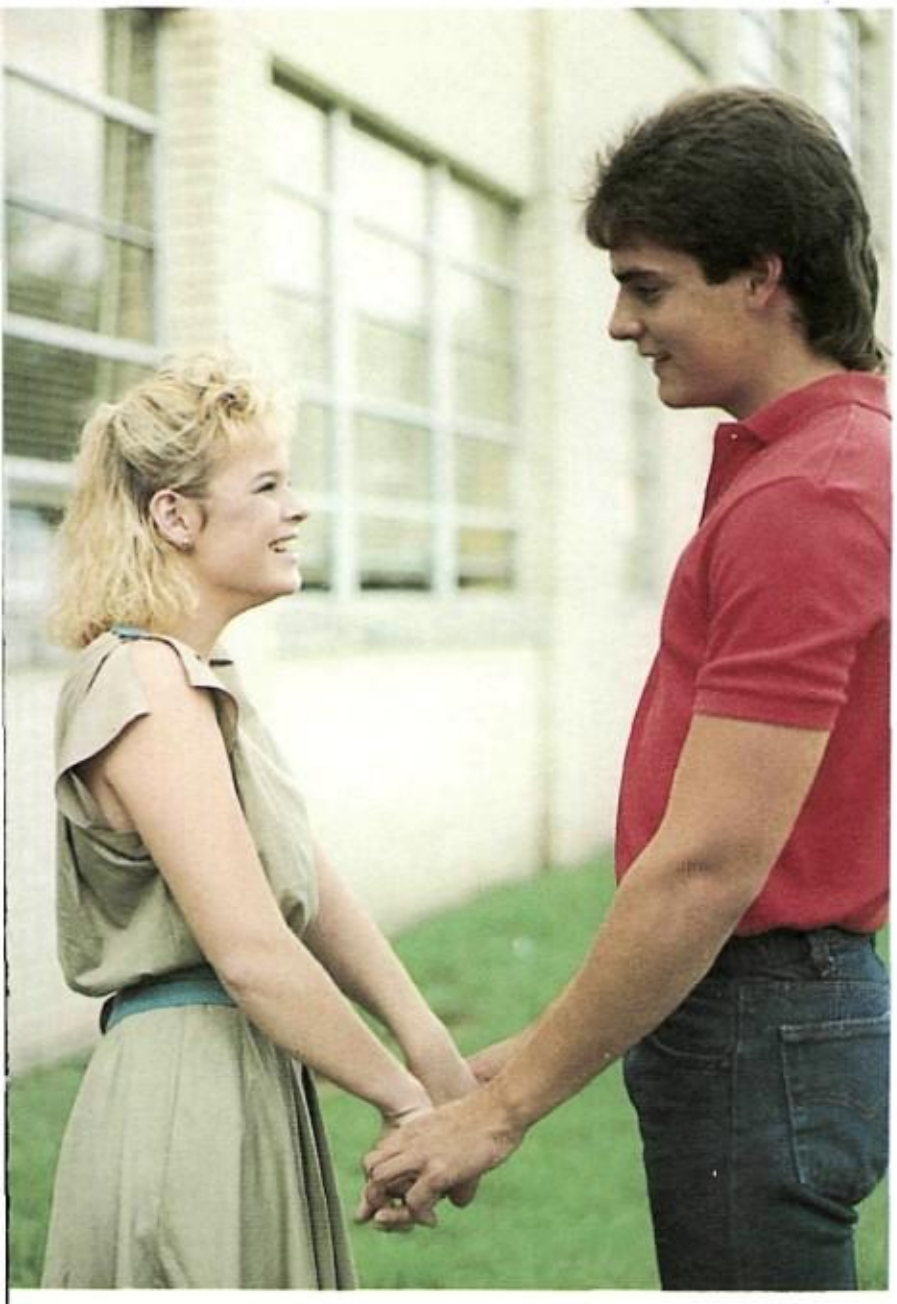
The First Date

The first date. What a night (Mare)! The first date a person has is a very memorable experience. It is usually very nice, but sometimes disastrous. It takes about 30 minutes for the new couple to decide what they want to do. They decide on a movie. Once inside, the boy puts his arm around the girl and is quietly choking her. She is too embarassed to say anything. After the movie, they go to the local McDonald's. This is a bad idea because they don't want to eat in front of each other. With stomachs growling in hunger, they both order Cokes. As all experienced daters know, McDonald's ends the first date. Now the couple is a twosome and can be seen together everywhere — walking to classes, going to football games or maybe even eating lunch together. As dating couples know, a night out can sometimes be very expensive. A lot of couples enjoyed staying home and watching movies on a VCR, and enjoying the company.

MOLLIE HUNT AND Clay Campbell shared the events of their day.

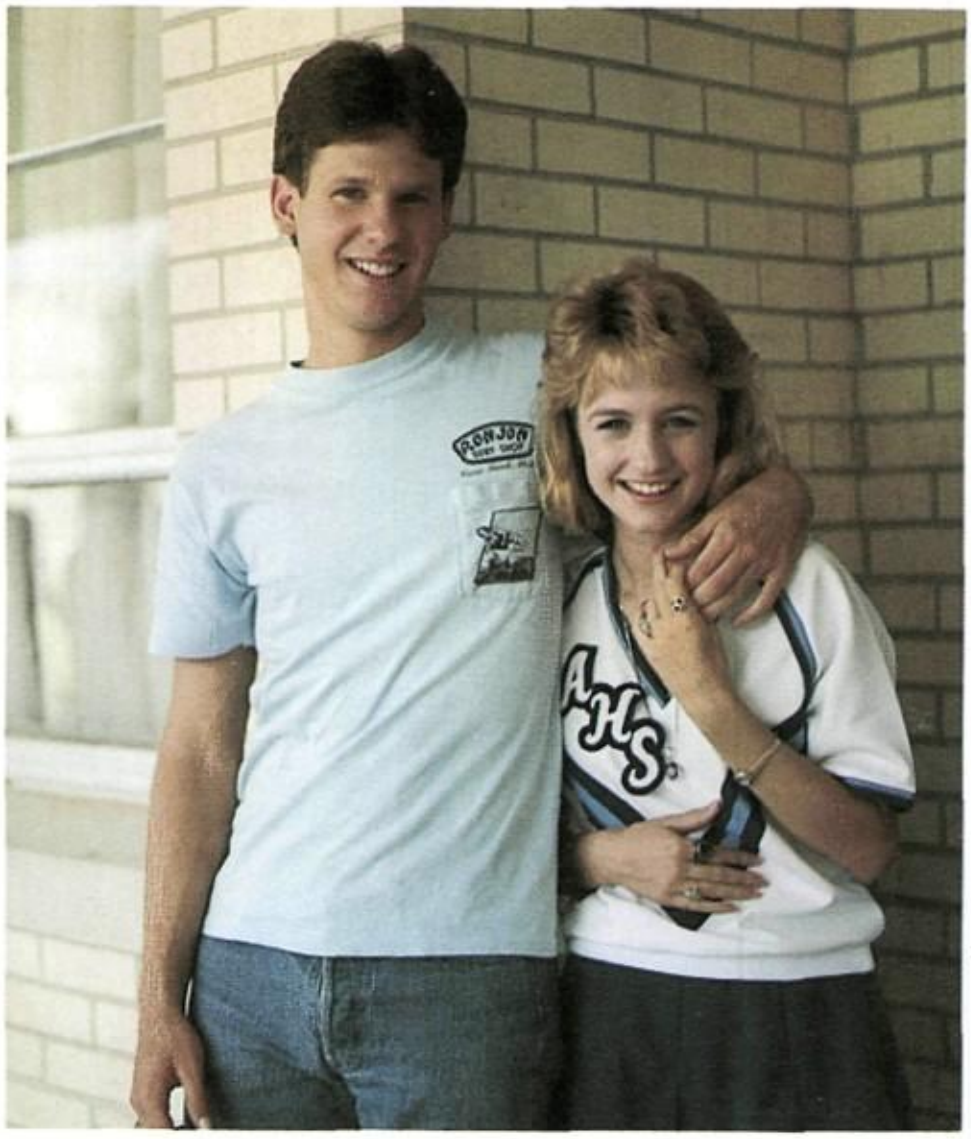
JILL SIMS AND Blaine Laughlin found other things to do in the lunchroom besides eating.





TANZIE MCWILLIAMS AND Stace Wilhite spent a quiet moment alone during break.

MANDY WHORTON POSED with her favorite upperclassman, Todd Shy.



ATHER HOWELL PERSUAD-
Tater Smith to try one more
e of cafeteria food.

Studying Paid Off

Everyone started the year with a resolve to make good grades, to always do homework, and to study for every test. Few kept these promises. For those who did the rewards were priceless. Many hours of studying, cramming for tests, pondering over trig problems, and writing English assignments were needed to succeed.

It took a lot to reach that certain mark of success that each one of us wanted to attain, whether it be for a scholarship, special recognition by teachers or just for our own personal satisfaction. Studying required giving up a lot of our free time and missing a lot of extracurricular activities. Studying meant burning the mid-night oil and missing our favorite weeknight television shows. Satisfaction came from seeing that passing grade on all our assignments. There was no report card day "anxiety". Those who didn't study found out the hard way that it was a necessary part of their high school years. All of us complained because of the amount of studying that was required, but in the end all of the hard work and dedication paid off. It was all worth it.

WENDY LOVERIDGE AND Ca
Knettle shared a joke during class.

SCOTT KEYS TRIED to fit all of his books into his locker.

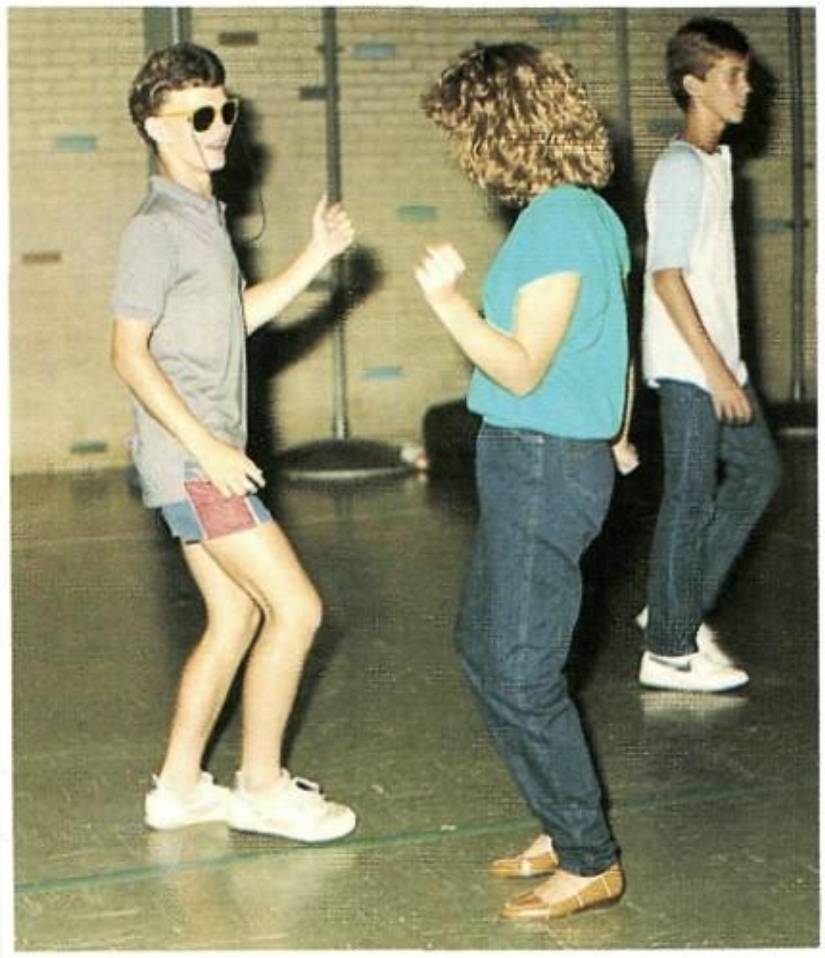
LISA BYBEE CAUGHT up on her studying during lunch.

GLORIA NIETTE AND Nathalie Barnes finished up their homework in the library.

FRESHMAN FREDDIE LOPEZ winced as the tardy bell rang and he couldn't open his locker.

STACEY LUSK, JUNIOR, got her reading done in the corner of the library.

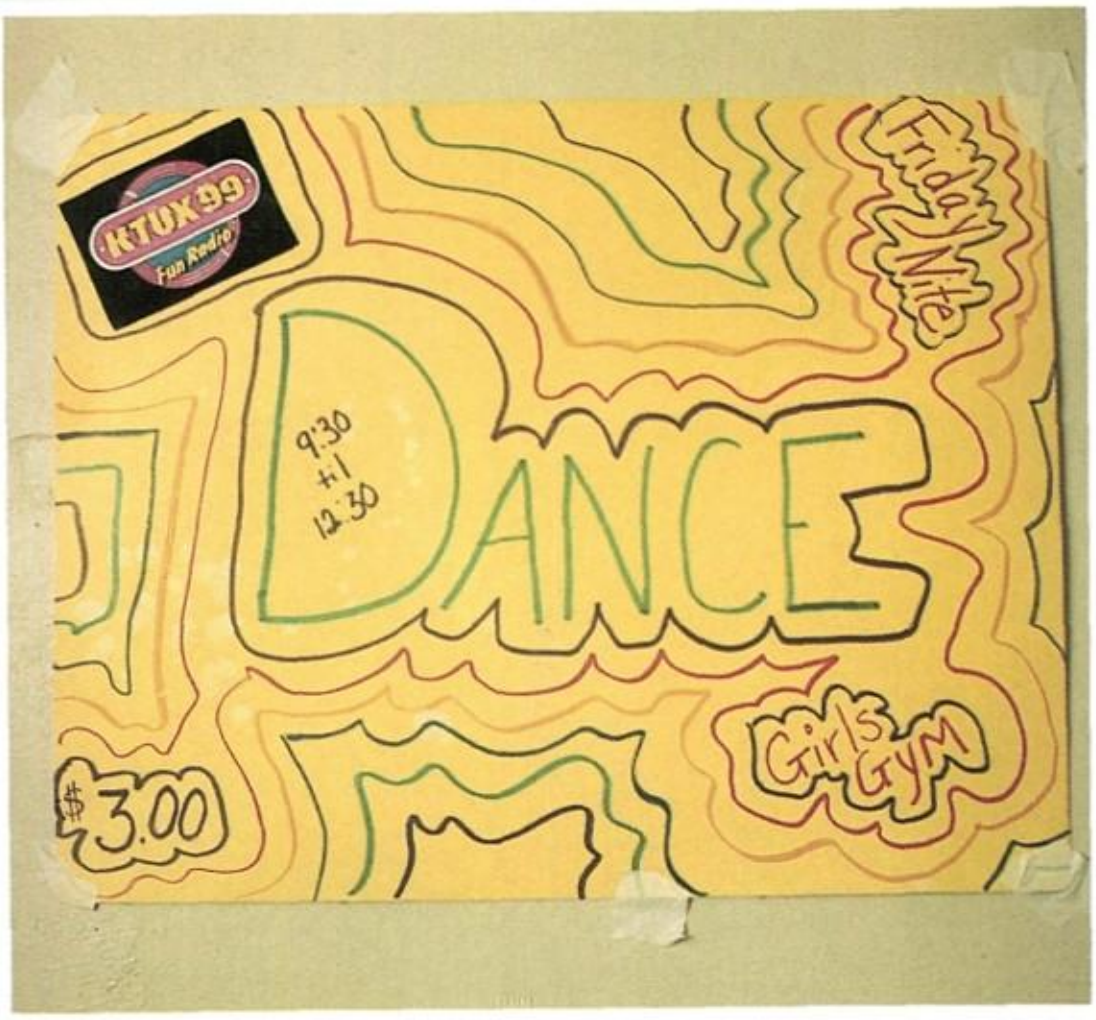
JERRY LAY AND Tricia Carrell "jam-out" to a fast song.



A GROUP OF AHS students took time out from dancing to wave.

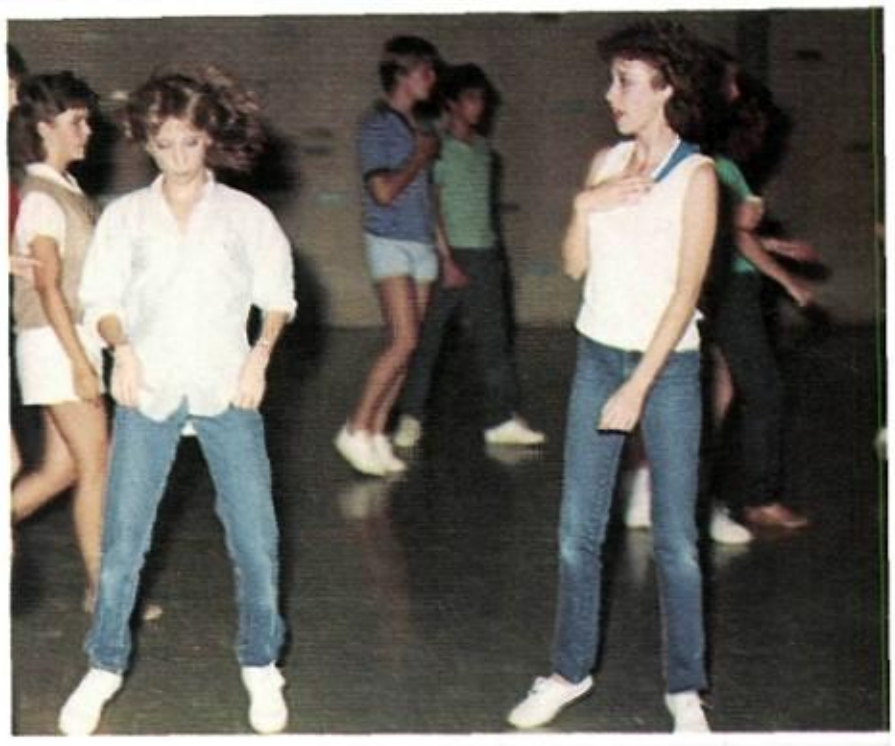
TRICIA CARRELL SHOWED her stuff and danced the night away.

KIM MARLOWE AND Tonya Stephenson compared dance steps.



DANCE SIGNS WERE displayed during the week to announce the dance on Friday.

SOME FRESHMEN GIRLS enjoyed jumping up and down while they danced.



Keep Up The Beat

Dances were the place to go after football games. Whether the team won or lost, people still went to have fun. These dances were sponsored by the cheerleaders and KTUX 99, and were held in the girls' gym.

Most people went to the dances with friends to check-out the crowd. The dances gave students a place to go on Friday nights to make new friends and talk with old ones. The Friday night dances at Airline will always be remembered as fun times.

SOME STUDENTS LIKED to stand around and visit instead of dancing.

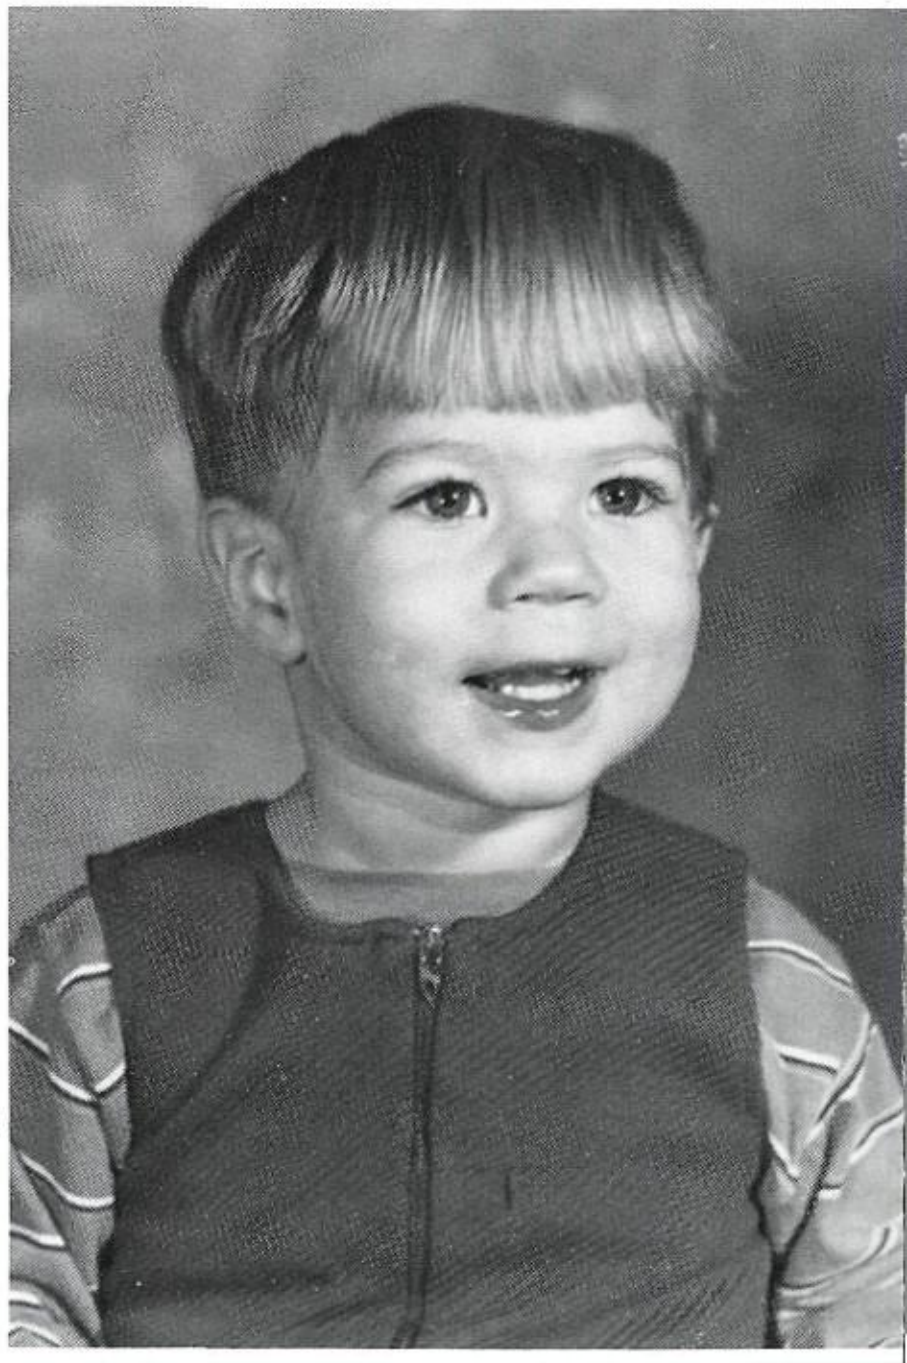
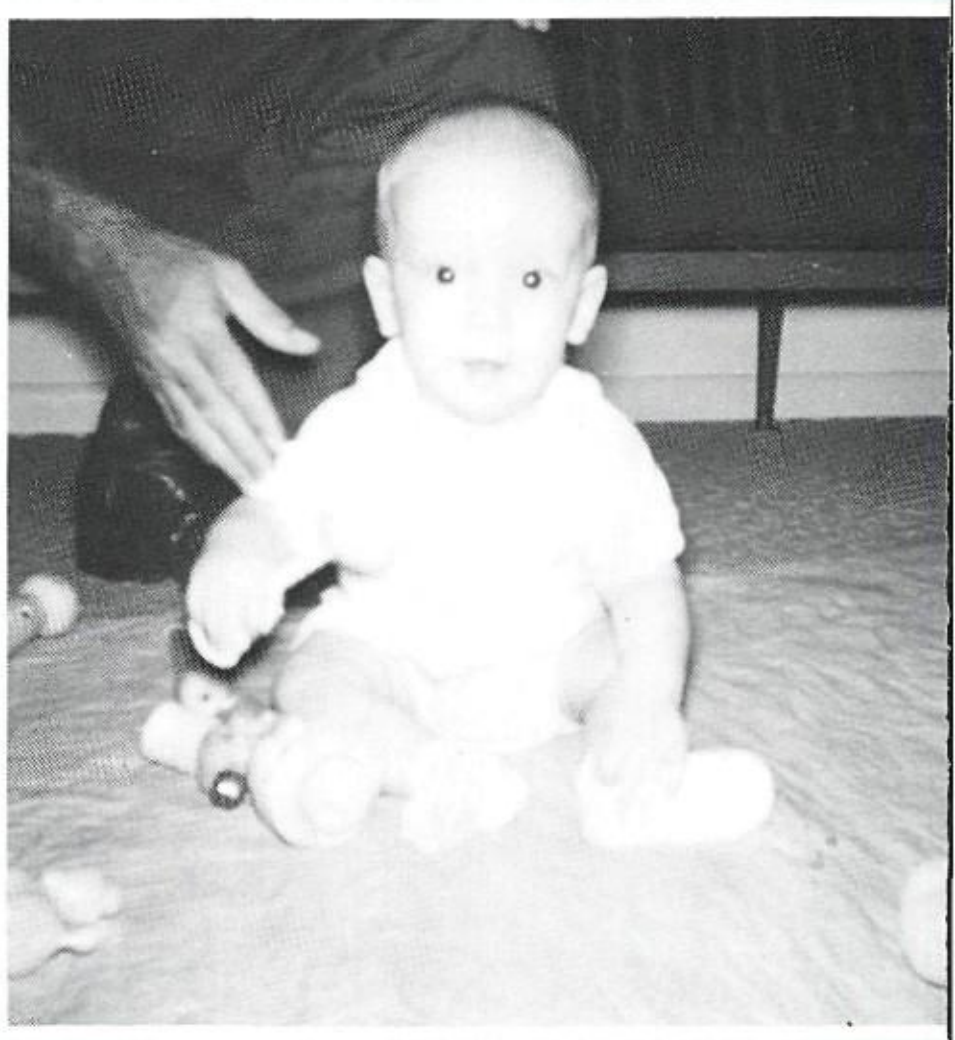
JASON COPE AT 23 months. Isn't he cute?



Grown-Up Vikes

Growing up is something all of us look forward to. All of or lives we've said, "When I get old enough," or "I wish I were old enough."

Even though we are all glad that we've "grown-up," deep down we all wish we were still "Mommy's little girl," or "Daddy's little boy." But we are proud that we grew up to be VIKINGS.



LAUREN OBERLE DREAMED of being a Viking at a very young age.

JAN BARTON ENJOYED playi with her toys in the middle the floor.

MATT COPE, A musical genius at age 2½.

WEARING MATCHING SUITS, Mike Craig and Craig Bradford looked adorable.

RAIG MOSS POSED with is sailboat outfit when he vas 10 months old.

JENNIFER AND KIM Bogan hugged each other for once.

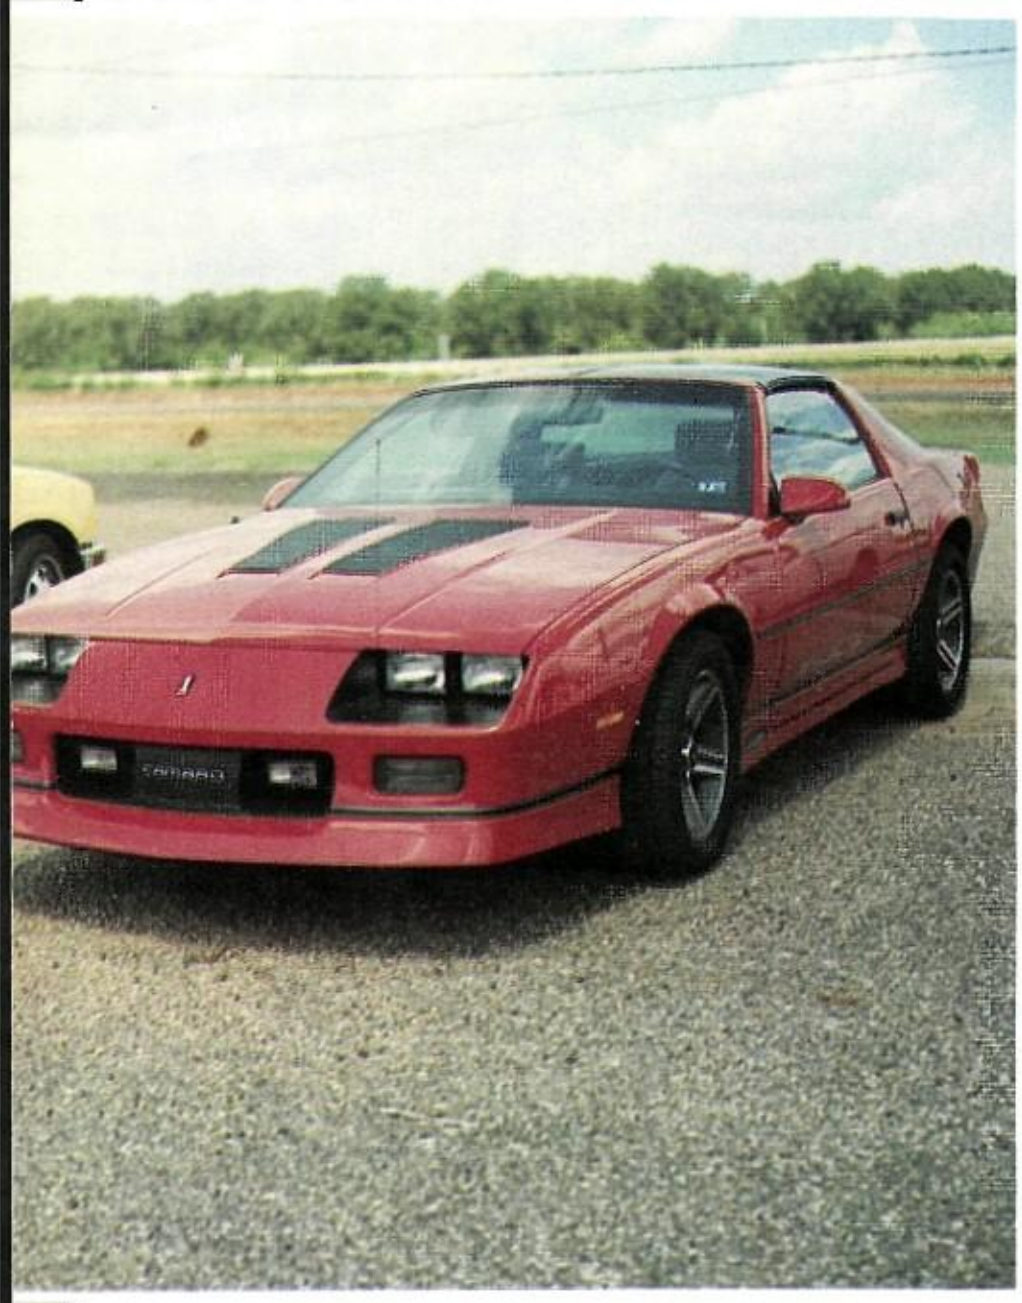
WEARING A FOOTBALL Jersey at 4 months, Blaine Laughlin knew he would be a quarterback.

Vikes And Cars

Transportation at Airline came in many forms. Old cars, short cars, used cars, but mostly abused cars.

At 2:20 a mad dash was made to the parking lot and safety was not a priority. Most cars contained a minimum of ten people, and drove at a minimum speed of sixty. It was probably safer to walk home in the middle of Airline Drive than to get packed into a car. If a person did not drive to school, he was either taken by his mother or he rode the bus. Both of these routes have their drawbacks. The bus was always hot and full of people, and a ride with mother usually led to embarrassment because she was always in her house robe. Nothing is worse than the whole school seeing a student get out of a car with a driver that has rollers in her hair. All in all, whether a person rode in a new Porsche or the "family car", he was always glad he got to school safely. Airline students were proud of their wheels.

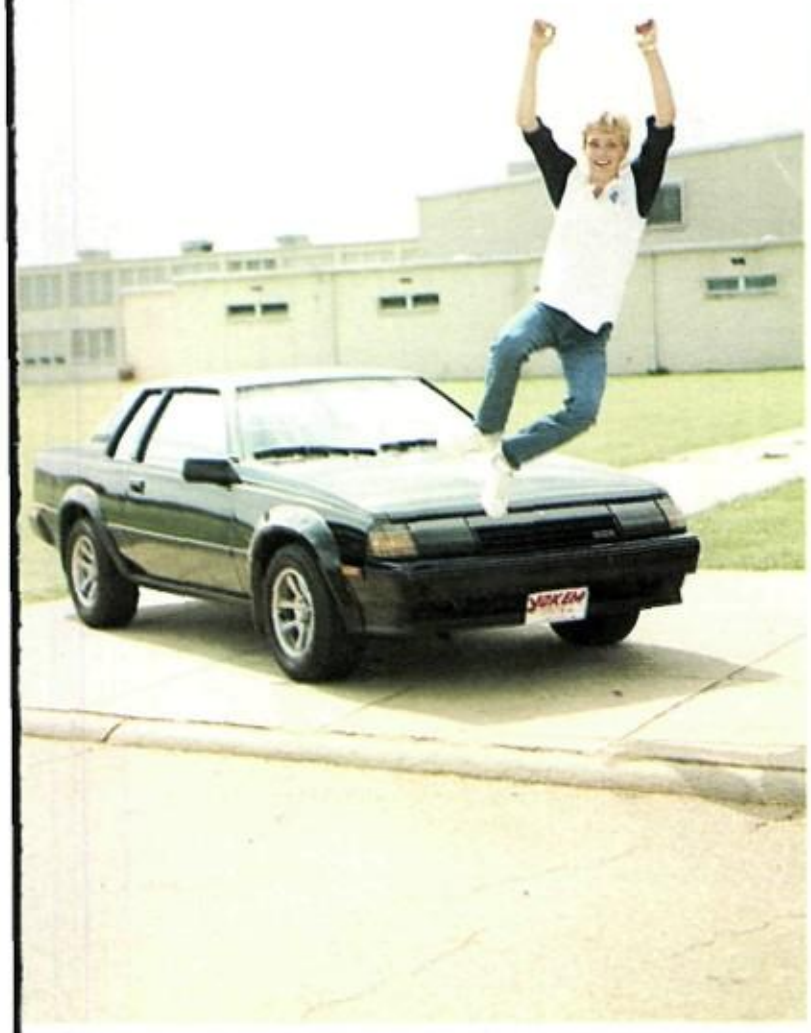
TIM MURPHY SAT on the back of Blaine Laughlin's Camaro in the parking lot.



JESTON ALLEY PARKED his Iroc-Z away from all other cars to insure its safety.

TIM WATKINS' Z-28 was a bright spot in everyone's day.

TODD BROWN'S WHITE Chevrolet was quite an eye-catcher.



CHRIS HAMMONS SHOWED his true "feeling" for his new Toyota.

DARYL FOWLER PULLED into the parking lot with little excitement.

MARY MONTGOMERY, ANGEL Stinson, Matt McMahan and C. A. Hughes "pigged-out" in the cafeteria.

A GROUP OF seniors solemnly ate lunch while discussing the events of the day.

SOME STUDENTS LIKED to stand up to eat in the cafeteria.

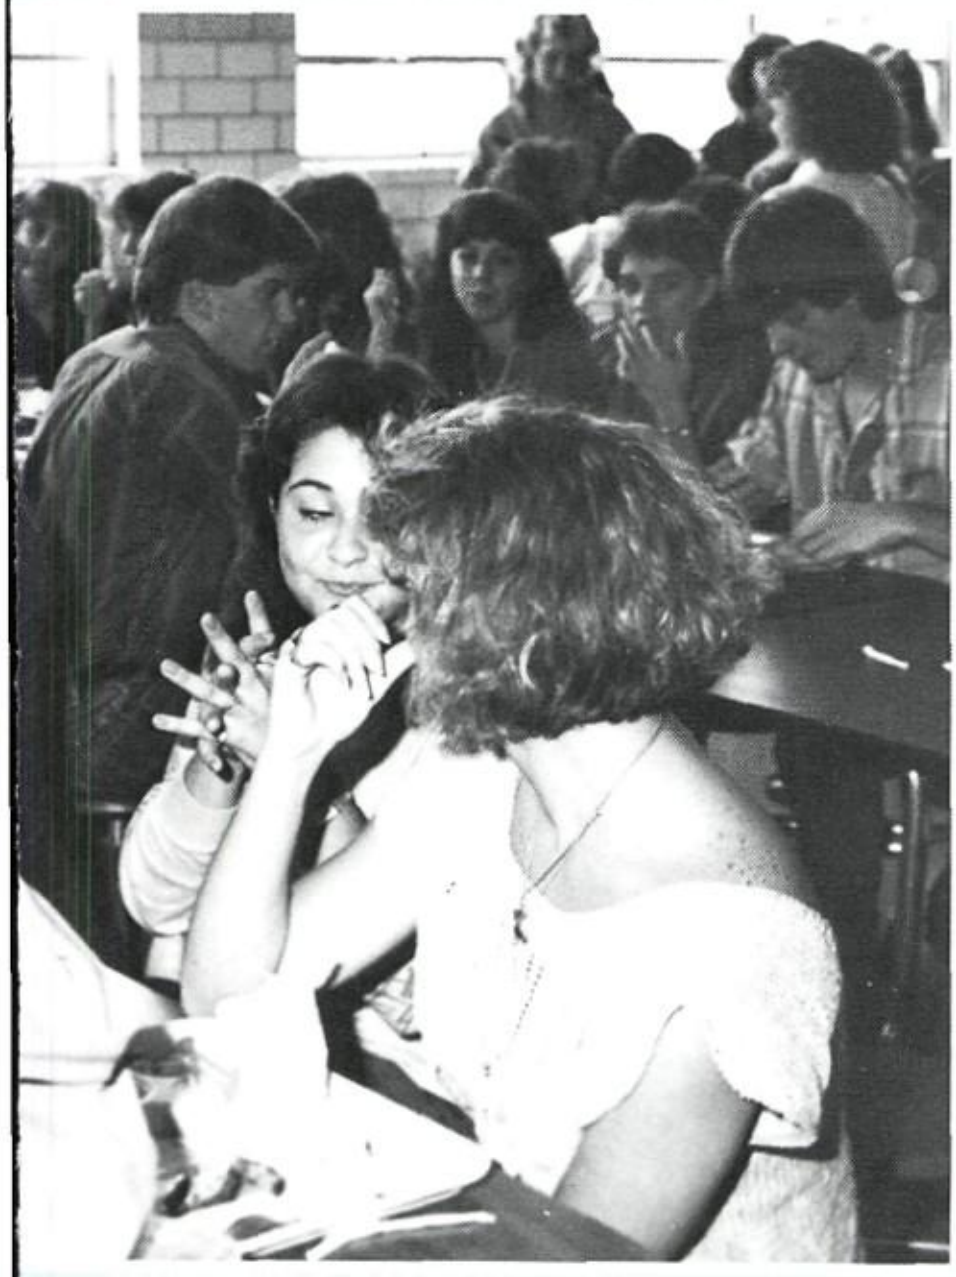
Don't Eat — Talk!

Lunch was a time for talking with friends and goofing off. Whether a person brought a lunch or ate in the cafeteria, it was a time for visiting rather than eating. All the tables in the lunchroom were filled with gossiping students.

After going to classes all morning, students were also provided with a well-deserved break from the monotony. If a student ate in the cafeteria, all visiting had to be done while going through the line because time was short. The people who didn't eat in the cafeteria, stayed outside in the courtyard and talked with their friends. Most of the time lunch was used as a study hall. Students either studied for afternoon tests or finished an assignment that they hadn't completed the night before. Teachers often received "lunchtime" assignments, and students claimed that they received better grades on these rushed assignments. Students who didn't have an assignment to do or somewhere to go, were usually recruited to call out another student's vocabulary words. Lunch was used for many different things besides just eating.

ARRON HENIGAN SPOONED gravy over his mashed potatoes in the lunchroom.

STEPHEN POSEY AND Sam McCracken seemed thrilled to be eating in the cafeteria.



YVETTE PAWLOW AND Cindy Stokes discussed their day while finishing up their lunch.

Boost Viking Pride

Every Friday afternoon AHS students piled into the boys' gym for a pep rally. The gym was always loud, hot and full of spirited Viking fans. The cheerleaders did skits, cheered on the team, and boosted the spirit of the crowd. Every week each class competed for the spirit stick. One week a toilet paper wrap was held, another week KTUX 99 spirit cards were signed, and still another week the winner of the spirit stick was decided by the number of people that participated in the spirit days. Students ended their school day on Fridays full of school spirit and pride, and humming the Alma Mater. AHS pep rallies were one of the most meaningful events to students. It didn't matter if a person was a member of the "popular" crowd or not. These were times for unity and spirit. They were also times for some wild and crazy stunts. Juniors and seniors held up signs proclaiming their superiority, while freshmen and sophomores looked on with amusement. Pep rallies united Vikings and sent them home with smiles on their faces.

TRACY DAVIS LAUGHED at the antics of the competing classes as they participated in the toilet paper wrap.

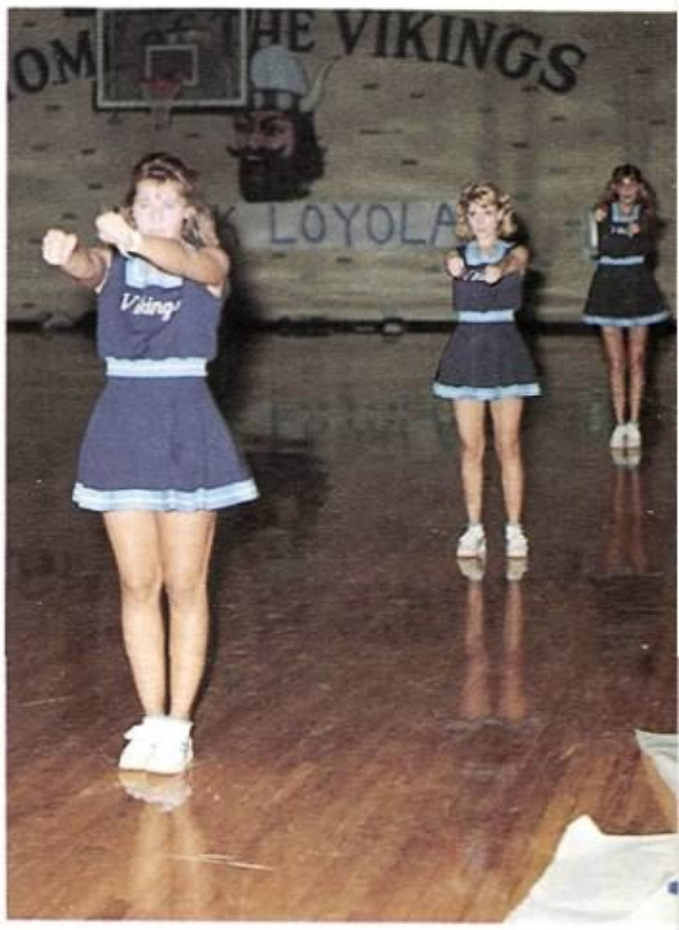
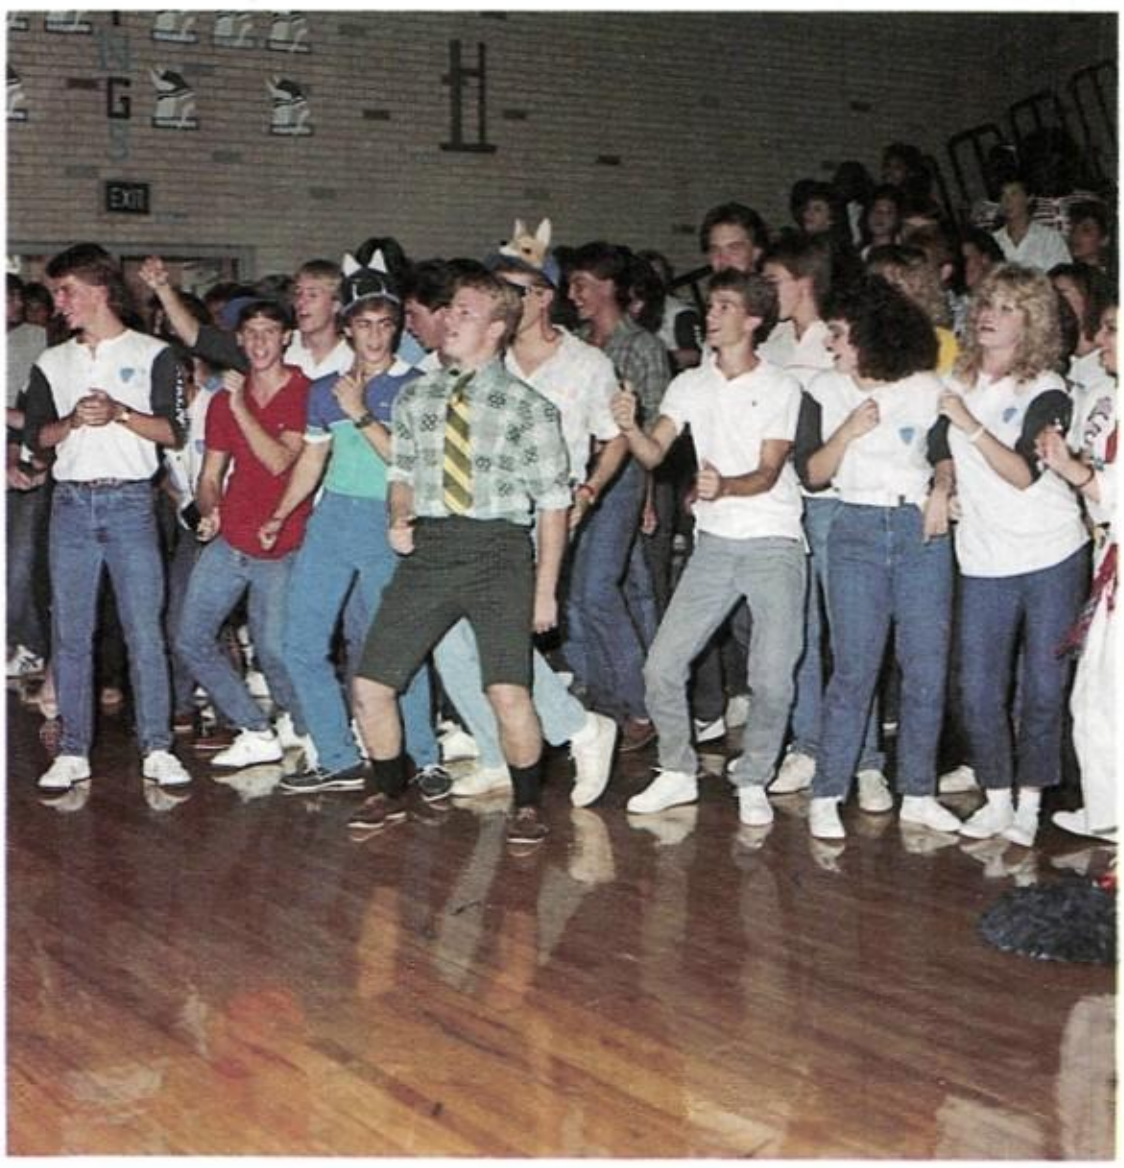
SPEAKING TO A crowd of unruly students at a pe rally, Bo Spataro proclaimed the Vikings' superiorit over their opponents.

EDDIE PLAZA SHOWED his Viking spirit by holding up a stuffed mascot.



AHS CHEERLEADERS LINED up to begin a cheer for the football team.

STEPHANIE WINN, SENIOR, sang the Alma Mater with enthusiasm.



THE CLASS OF '86 stood out on the gym floor to "Boogie Down."

Special Friendships

Friends are a very important part of the lives of high school students. They stick beside a person when he is in trouble, behind him in all of his dreams, and are in touch with his feelings. Friends are above making judgements, are up-front from the start, around when they are needed, and near to our hearts. A friend can make a person smile when no one else can. They make every day fun and each school year special. Students visited with friends during class and stopped to chat between classes. Friends went to ballgames on Friday nights. They were out on Saturday nights to have fun and act crazy together. They were together constantly and their friendship was the top priority to them. Nothing could come between them. Sometimes friends fought, but the true friendships withstood the fighting. A real friend was hard to come by and harder to keep. Some of us were lucky enough to have a special person to tell our secrets and our dreams. For those people who don't have a true friend or who have never attempted to have one, it's a very special feeling.

LISA BYBEE AND Jennifer Farrington looked on as the Viking football team made its way downfield.

LINNEA FAYARD GOT a hug from Jill Sims when she was picked Homecoming Queen.

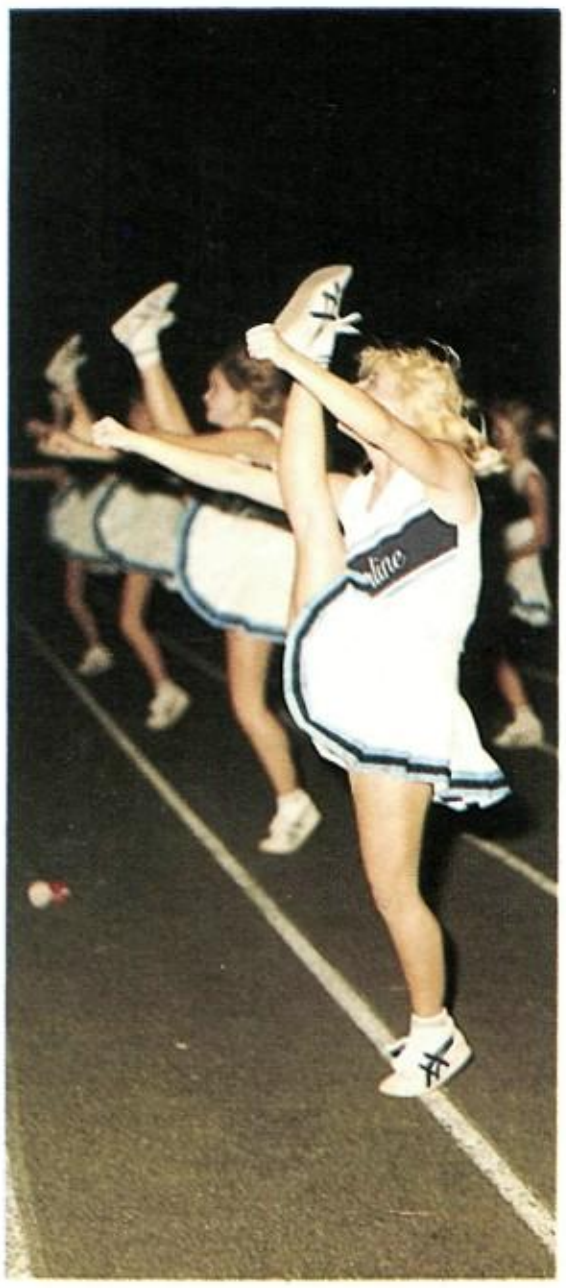
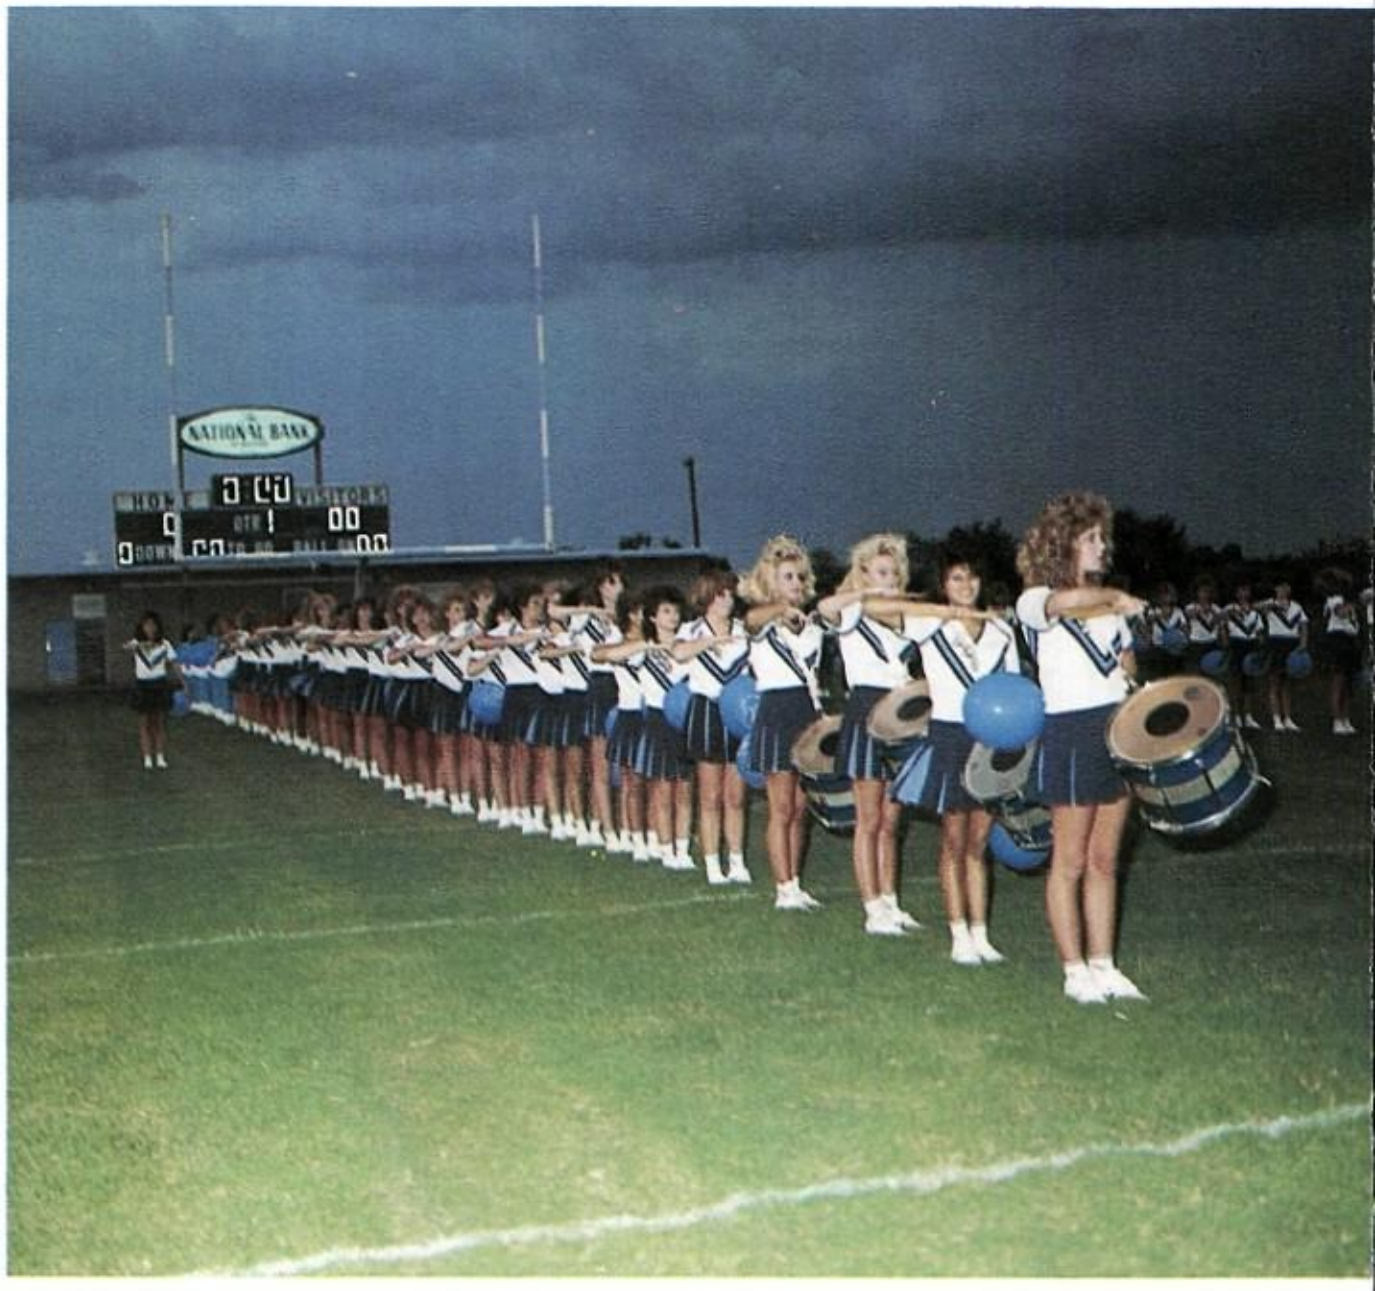
A WINDY NIGHT forced the cheerleaders to stand on their sign to keep it from blowing away.

STACY ANDING, SENIOR, concentrated on keeping up with the others while performing.



AHS VALKYRIES PREPARED to welcome the team onto the football field.



A Spirited Season

The stadium was crowded with screaming Viking fans. People were everywhere — at the concession stand, talking to friends, and watching the game. This was a Friday night. A night set aside to go out to the football stadium and support the Airline football team. Nothing is better or more contagious than the excitement of an Airline football game. They gave students a chance to show their loyalty and support to Airline High School, and to experience victory. The band marched during halftime and strove to be the best marching band anywhere. The cheerleaders had a goal of cheering better than the other team's cheerleaders. The Blue Angels proved that they could dance better than any danceline in the area, and Viking fans showed everyone that the Vikes were the best. All of these groups represented Airline proudly and did a good job at it. Football games provided a chance to bring students, faculty, and the community together for one cause — to support those VIKINGS. Friday nights were loud, hot, and memorable.

Spirit Day Fun

Those good ole spirit days. Faculty members as well as students went "all out" to promote Viking Pride by participating in the spirit days during football season. One of the favorite spirit days was "Bee Bop Bossier." On this day, all of Airline was dressed in clothes from the 50's. Some wore poodle skirts and sweaters, while others wore rolled-up jeans and T-shirts. Of course, everyone completed their outfits with penny loafers. Faculty and students alike participated in this "bee-boppers time warp." Another well-liked spirit day was "Petrify Parkway." Airline students dressed in their favorite Halloween costumes to scare the wits out of Parkway. It was quite memorable ..... people with blue hair and black glasses, some with "blood" all over their faces and clothes, and still others with funny or cute costumes. Such as crayons, pumpkins, and bananas. Other spirit days were "Plaid the Panthers," "Camouflage the Giants," and "Cage the Kats." Those good ole spirit days! They brought fun and exciting times, and they helped all at Airline to show "Viking Pride."

JENNIFER BOGAN AND Jodie Blalock showed their outfits.

Homecoming Memories

Homecoming was officially underway with the announcement of the Homecoming Court. As soon as the Court was announced, all of the planning and deciding began. Floats had to be built and Homecoming outfits had to be bought before the big game on Homecoming night. The classes soon began to discuss ideas for their floats. Themes were decided on and flowers were made ... then the work began. Floats, cheerleaders, Homecoming Court, danceline .... all were included in the colorful parade. And of course, the parade would not have been complete without the sights and sounds of the Big Blue Band from Viking Land.

Everyone at Airline thought of this as a memorable Homecoming week and will cherish the memories forever.

DR. HALEY POSED with the newly crowned Homecoming queen, Linnea Fayard.

What's So Great About Being A Senior?

What's so great about being a Senior? One word seemed to sum up everyone's answer: GRADUATION!!

"Senioritis is a great feeling. Knowing you're almost out of here is even better!" explains Melissa Cooper.

Knowing she won't be back again next year makes Michelle McCrory feel pretty good, while Joe Metcalf feels he'll have more time to persue Shakespearean plays, feed the pigeons in the park, and play with his dog, Barney!

"Because it's good to know that the way I act and live may have an influence on the younger kids!" laughed Mike Wilkes.

Lots of hard work and patience has paid off for many Seniors. Laurie Isgate claims being editor of the yearbook has made her Senior year the best. But Mike Craig feels that the power, the freedom, and the accomplishment of getting there have made his the best.

"One thing that is so great, is all the memories, all the friends, and one part of your life you'll never forget." admitted Craig Moss.

"Finally realizing what it is that made all your older friends so happy when they were Seniors!" said Damon Caldwell.

Seniors Will Cherish Memorie

Thoughts Of A Desperate Senior

"Gosh! I can't believe it! I'm finally a Senior. Eleven long years of hard (ha!ha!) work and now I'm almost free. Only 132 more days with all these immature underclassmen. I can't wait!"

"Oh! Two and a half more months till graduation! I can't take it much longer. It will be such a blast going away to college and being on my own!"

"One month and one week left! What if I fail?!? I won't be able to graduate with my class! What if I flunk-out of college!?! I'll never get a job or have a career. I'll starve to death!!!!!!!

"Two weeks and one day. Fifteen days. Three hundred and sixty hours. I forgot to pick up my cap and gown! I don't remember what'll be on my Trig final! HELP!!!"

"Twenty-two hours, ten minutes, and thirty-one seconds. Awh! I'm so-o scared! I'm gonna fall down when I receive my diploma! I can stay out as long as I want to and sleep all day tomorrow! Those poor souls that still have to hit the floor at six a.m.!! OH NO! In three months, I'm gonna be all by myself at college . . . . and even worse, . . I'll be a FRESHMAN again!

Juniors Had Pride

This year's junior class was excited and enthusiastic. They were finally upperclassmen and proud of it. Together they continued to be a class that shined. They shared the good times and the bad times together. They awaited their senior year with anticipation of the things to come. The class of 1987 proved that they were the best from earth to heaven.

Homecoming 1985 was exciting and special for the Juniors. After the announcement of the homecoming maids, Jill Sims and Stephanie Brown, festivities were under way. After many long weeks of hard work, the float was finally finished. The first place award was given to the Junior class and their float, whose theme was Juke the Giants. Juniors Had To Study, Study, Study

School Is Not Just Fun

The anguished cries of Juniors could be heard night after night. There was always homework to do or a major test to study for. Many Juniors believed that they had it easy because of the few required courses which had to be taken. Besides an English, American History, and maybe a math, all the other classes could be electives. Some Juniors took the hard way and took Chemistry, Advanced Math, or various others. Many options were offered to Juniors. They learned that a person could not get by without studying. School was certainly not all play. Each student had to study, study, study.

JUNIOR GIRLS WERE hostesses for the 1985 Ring Ceremony.

Ring Ding

Senior rings are one of the most exciting things a Junior has to look forward to. It all starts in November when the Josten's representative comes to the school. After the difficult decision to choose just the right ring is made, the beginning of the wait has begun. After ring orders are taken many payments must be made during the year. Finally the wait pays off when the Juniors join together for Ring Ceremony. Everyone receives his ring and officially becomes a senior. The high point of the evening is singing the Alma Mater together as seniors for the first time. Senior rings are definitely the highlight of a junior's year.

Dedicated Leaders

The sophomore's year was made easier with the help of Stacy Doyal, Caryn Branch, Cadi Lampley and Kim Knight, the 4 class officers. Each made arrangements for the float, assisted in fund raisers and participated in many school activities. Without the help of these dedicated 4, the sophomore class would merely be a group of people.

After placing 1st in last year's float competition, "The Class of '88" was forced to settle for 3rd place. Nestled somewhere between the Freshmen and the Seniors, they managed to snap back and enjoy their 2nd homecoming.

The Class Of '88 Shone

The Sophomore class was one of expectations. All through the year the members of the "class of 88" pushed toward their final goal: becoming a Junior. They looked forward to ordering their rings, having a chance to be closer to the top, and just making it through their classes. The past year has been full of fun and laughter, but the time has come to think about grades and college. Their next year will be one of amusement and joy, but one of serious planning and hard work as well.

Homecoming Spirit

Freshmen joined right in to enjoy their first Homecoming week as "official Vikings." Weeks of preparation went into the creation of a Homecoming float. As the time drew nearer, flower parties became more frequent. Finally, the week arrived-Homecoming 1985. Laura Joslyn and Mary Montgomery were elected by their classmates as freshmen maids. Looking lovely, even in camouflage, the girls had a fun time at the parade. The next night, at the game, Laura and Mary represented the freshmen class with pride and spirit. Airline's danceline, The Blue Angels, was an important part of several freshmen's first year. Much effort and time went into the many fine performances the Blue Angels gave this year. Be Freshmen

The Class Of 1989

This year was a big year for the class of '89. They were coming from two different junior highs, Greenecres and Cope, to unite as one family in the big A.H.S. They had to forget all former rivalries and get acquainted with a lot of new people. But at the same time they had to adjust to a new school and harder classes, which by no means is an easy task. But the class of '89 proved they were ready to be Vikings when the first pep rally rolled around. They all joined together with excitement and enthusiasm. They also proved their Viking pride when it came time to make Homecoming floats. They put many hours of time and effort into perfecting their float, but when it was done the effort all paid off. They ended up getting second place in the float contest, but they have shown the upper classmen that they won their way to the top.

WE CAUGHT THIS freshman a little off guard.

THIS IS THE way the freshmen conducted class.

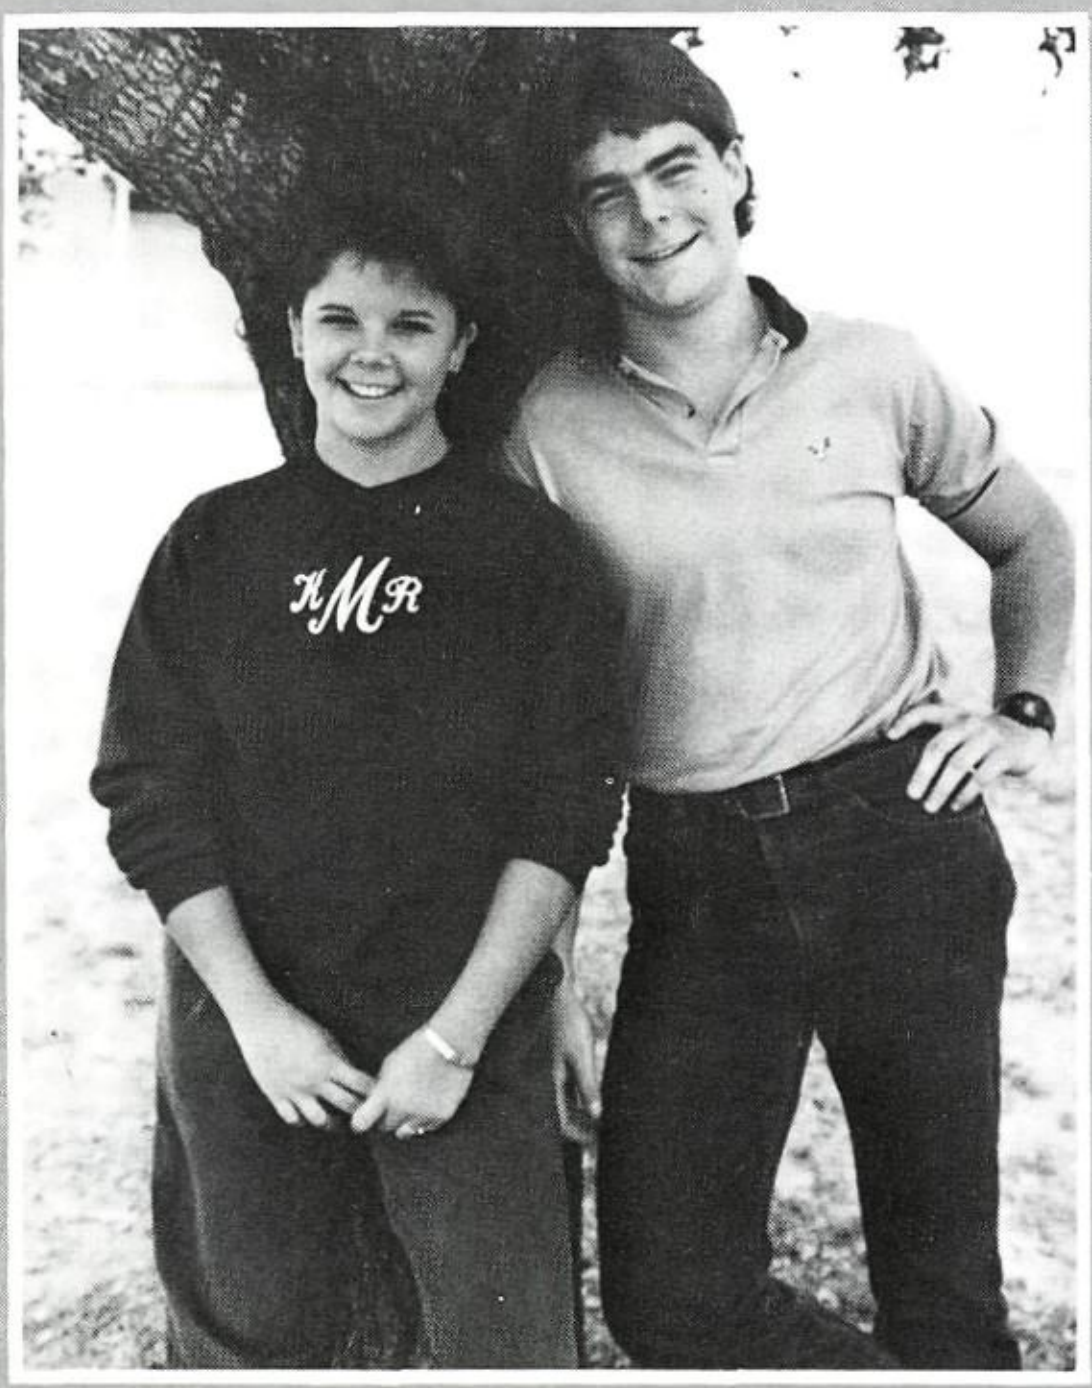
Some Freshmen Had Older Siblings



JEFF AND KAREN MARTIN are one example of a brother and sister pair who really get along.

Quite a few freshmen had an advantage when it came to adjusting to high school life. These students had older brothers or sisters who had "survived" their freshman year at Airline.

When asked about their relationship with their siblings, these freshmen had interesting responses. Most of the freshmen asked, said that people thought they looked like their older sibling, but when they were asked how they felt about it, their answers varied. Jim Watkins said he didn't care but that his brother, Tim, hated it. Suzy Wise said she didn't mind because she thinks her brother Jimmy is cute.

When it came to describing their relationships with their brothers and sisters, the freshmen became quite honest. Susan Turchick remarked that she and her brother Robert ignore each other so there is no problem with fighting. On the other hand, Tabitha Murphy said she and her brother Tim have a very open relationship and they get along "totally super."

For a few freshmen, this was the last year that their older brothers and sisters would be students at Airline. Those whose brothers or sisters were graduating, shared mixed feelings on the thought of their siblings leaving home. To Kevin Fergason it meant that he wouldn't get a ride to school next year. For Pat Stinson it was a sad thought because he went places with his sisters. Karen Wilkes summed it up by saying that she and her brother Mike always talk to each other about things they couldn't share with just anybody. When Mike leaves for college she will miss going places with him. It just goes to show that brothers and sisters can be best friends.

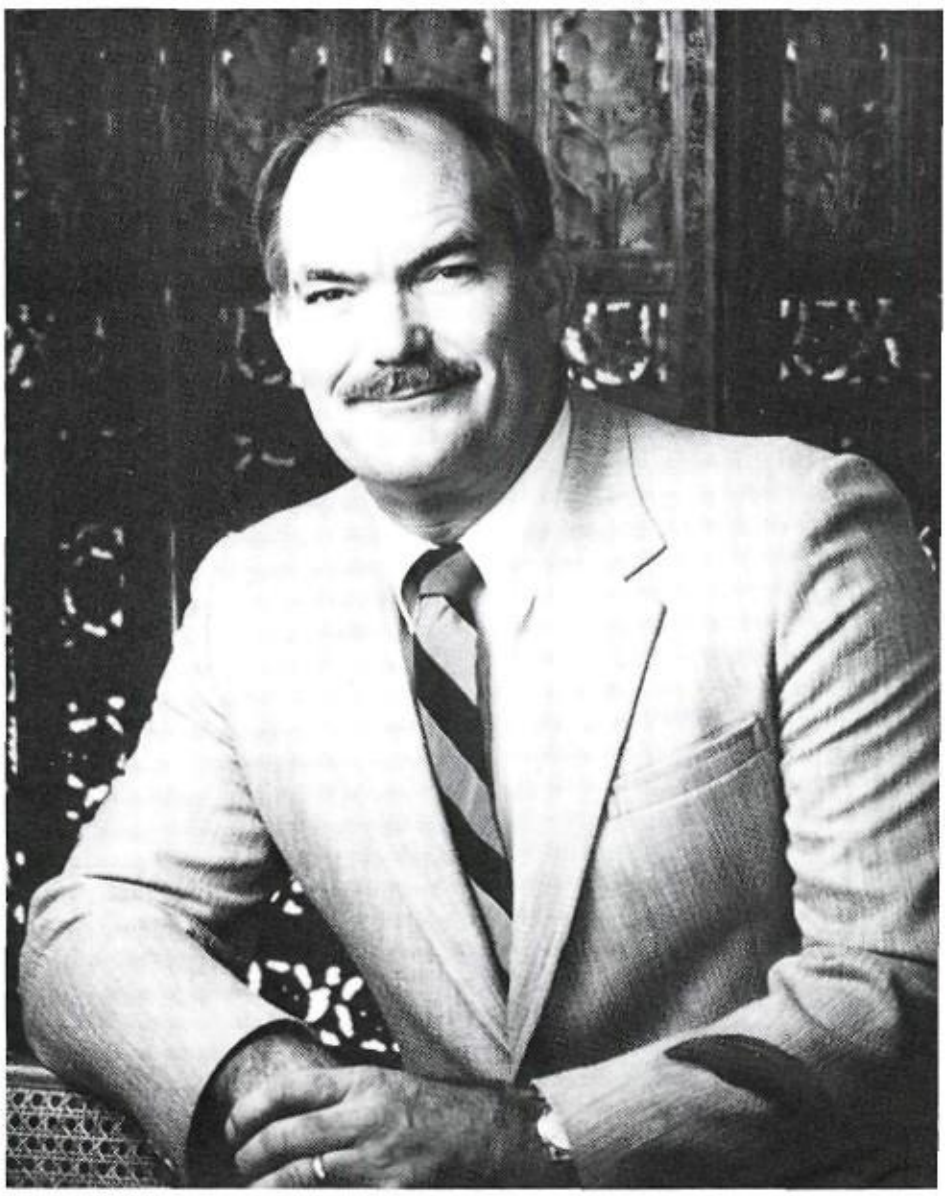
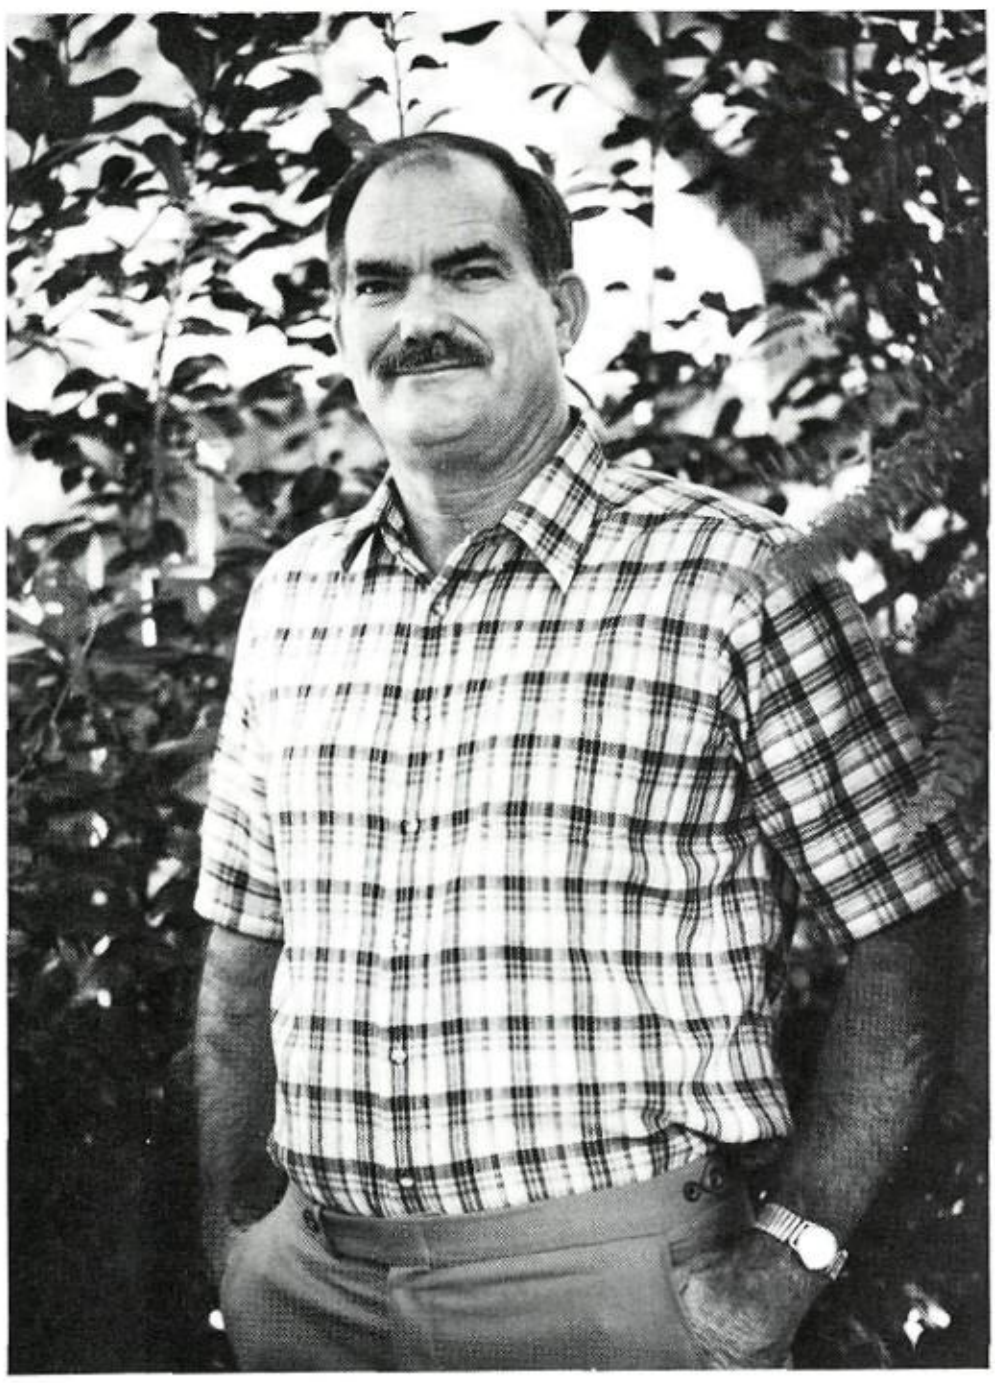
Dr. Haley Showed Concer

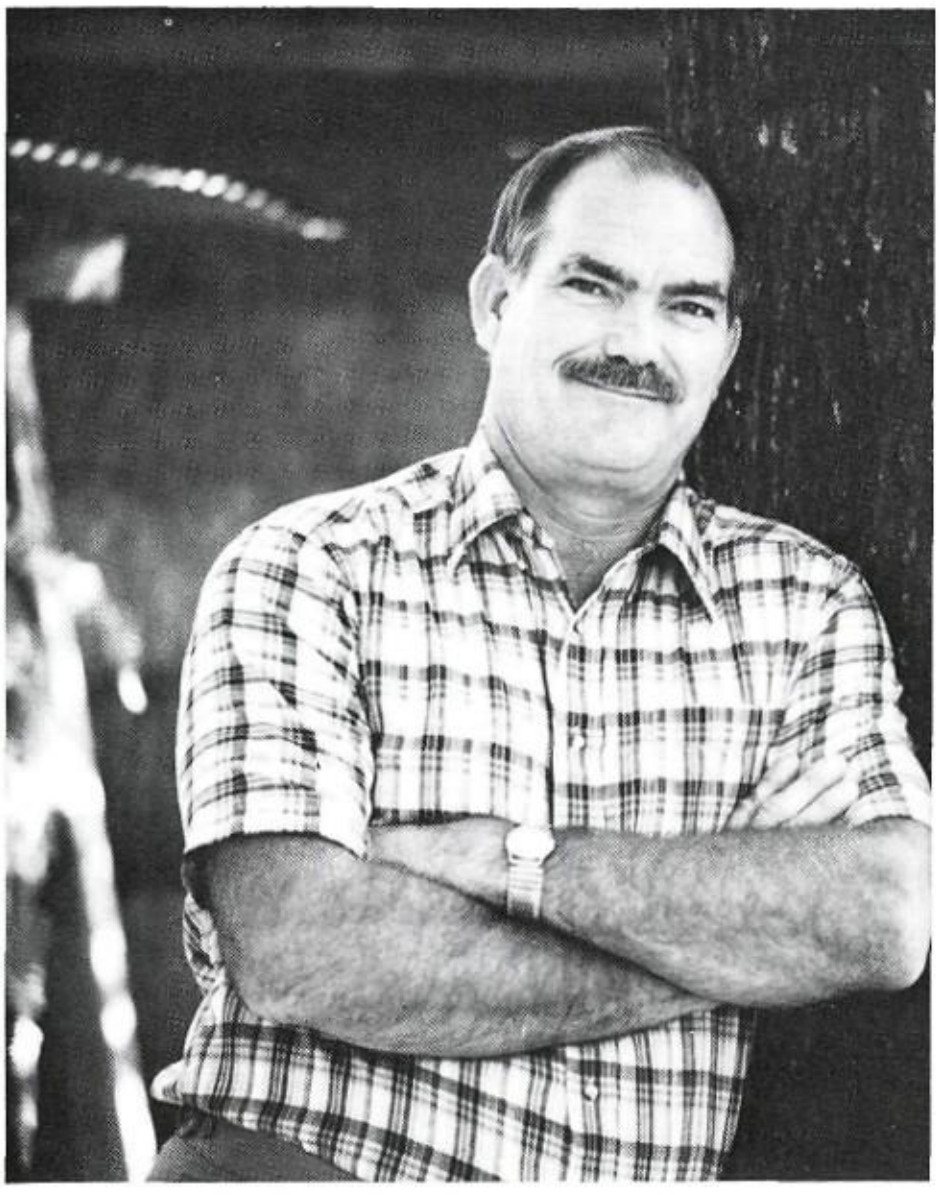
Dr. Phillip Haley
Principal

For his second year at Airline, Dr. Phillip Haley's exuberance has shown throughout the year. Dr. Haley has always been an avid Airline fan in every way. During his time as principal, he has set forth many goals for himself and for the school. Already, many of these goals have been achieved, but unfortunately many remain to be conquered. Working to improve the school life at Airline, Dr. Phillip Haley has made another year of school a big success.

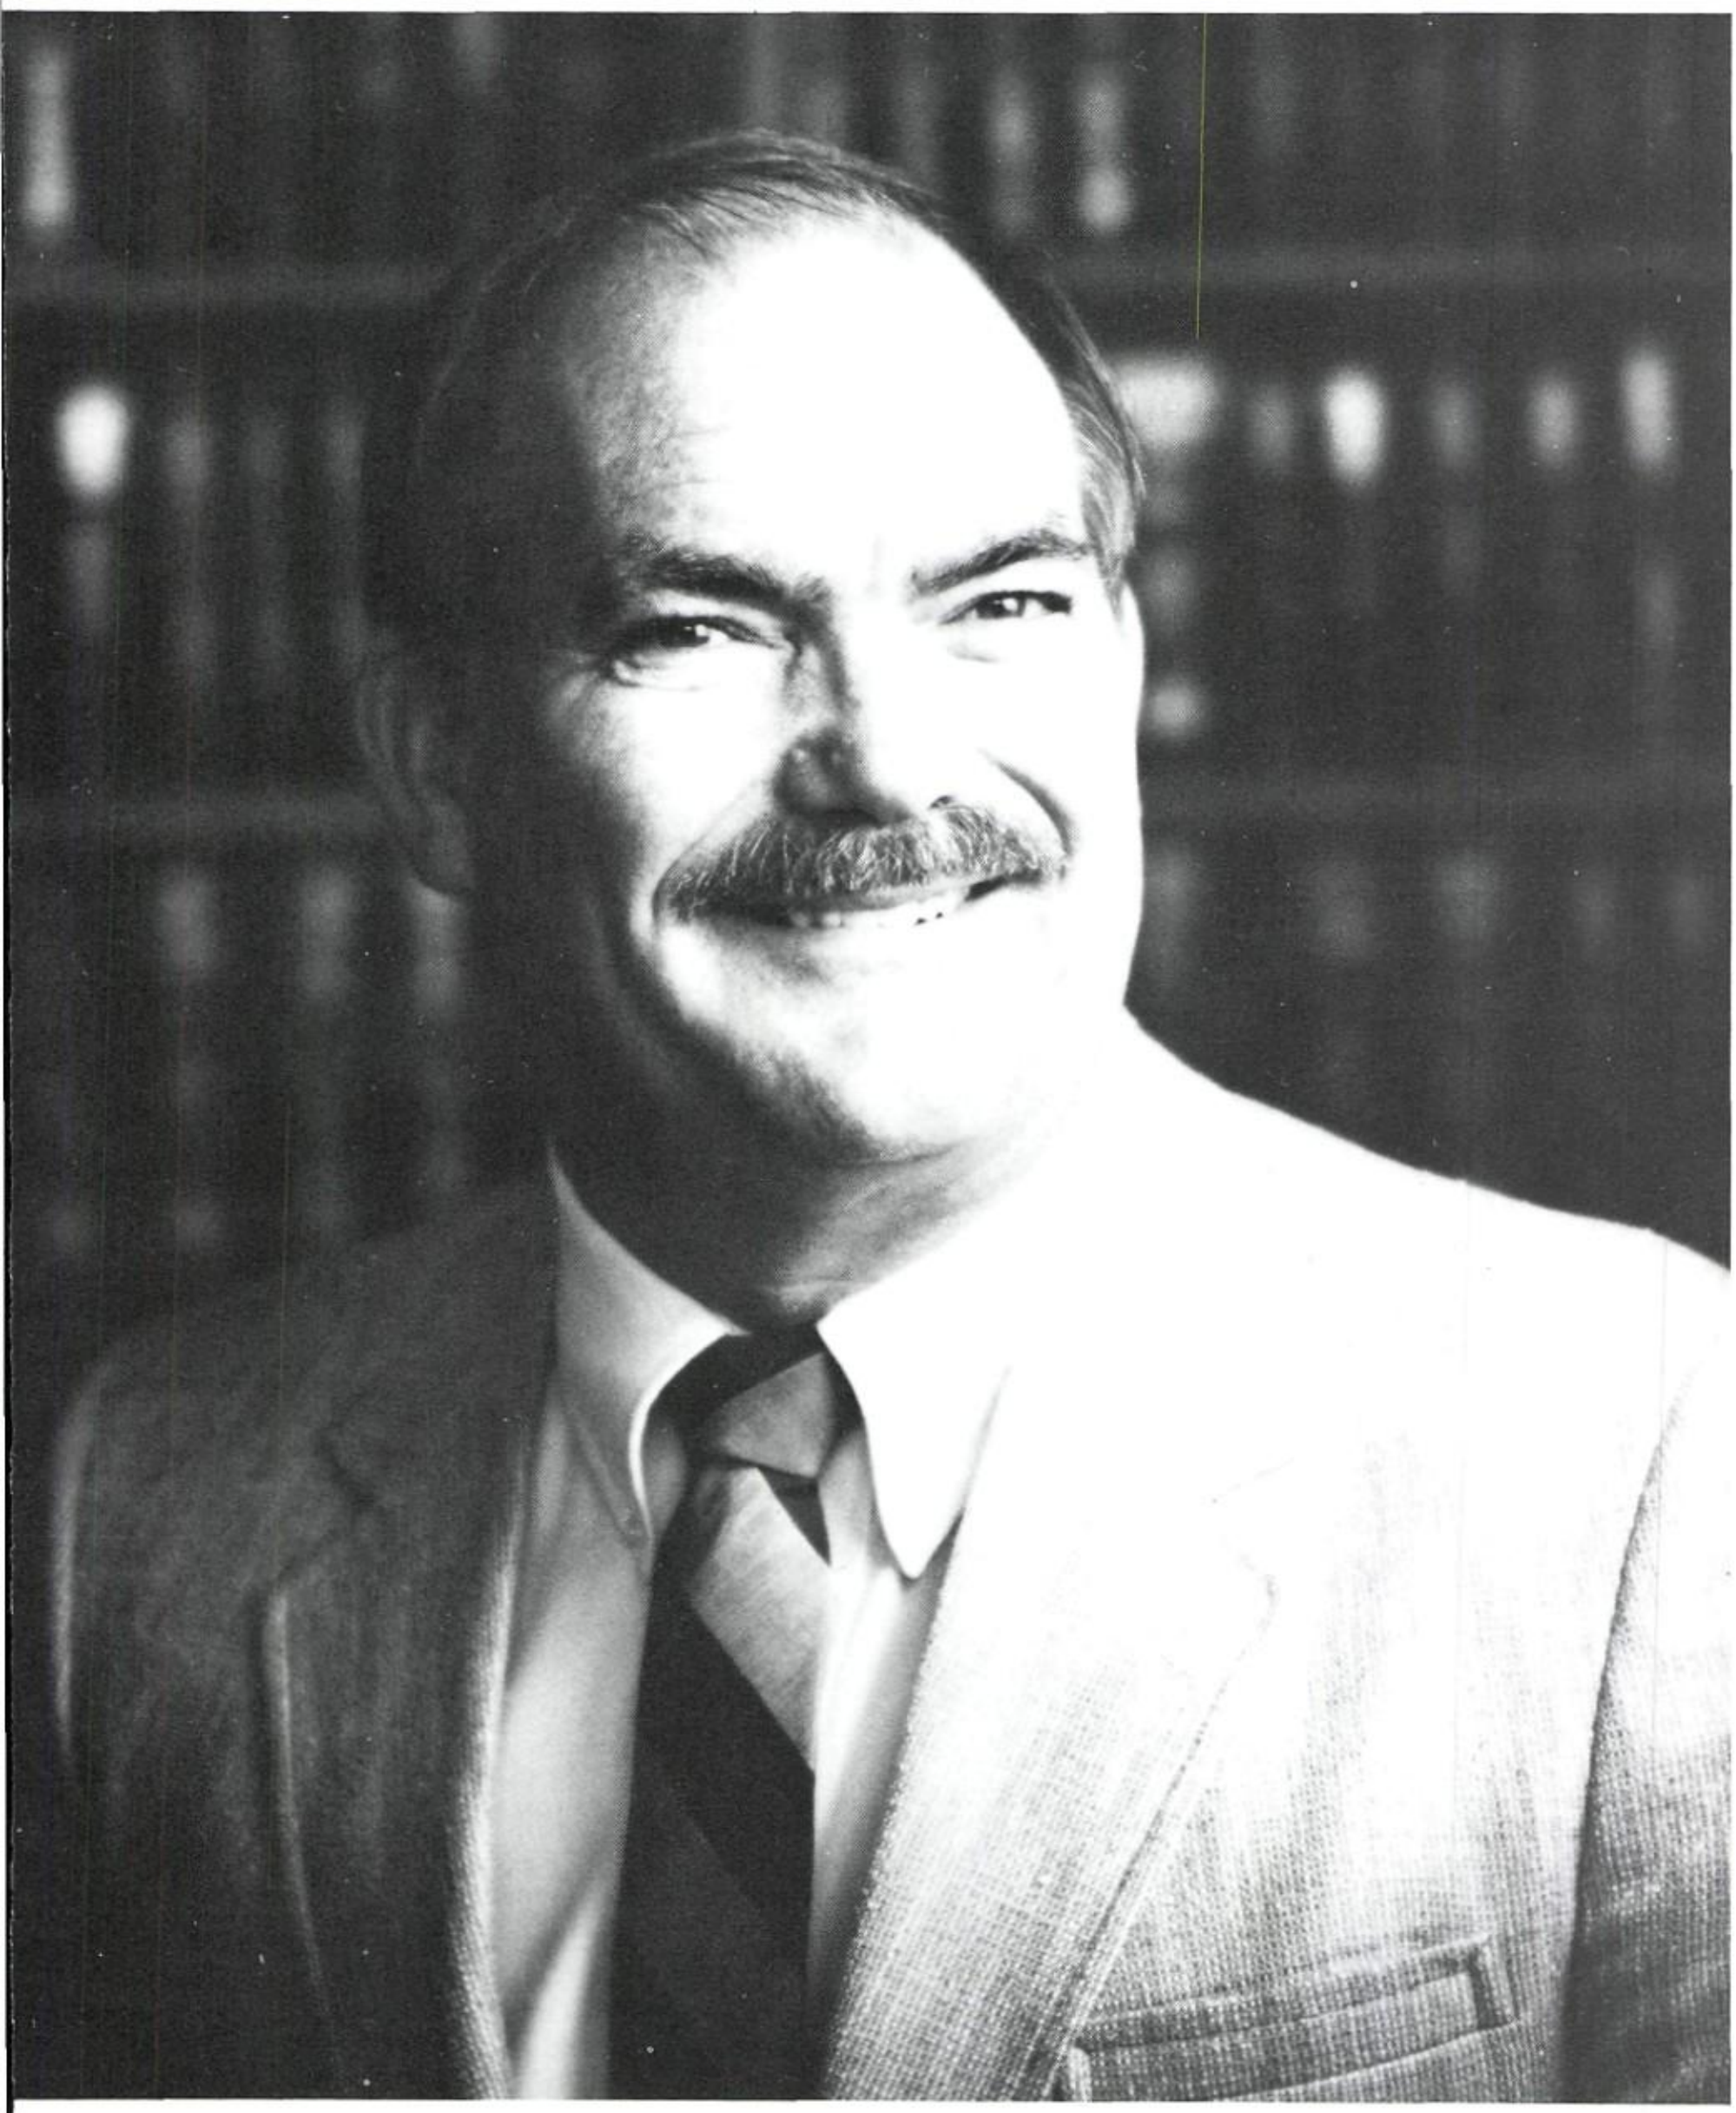
Through his many years of working with schools, Dr. Haley has taught, as well as learned, an abundance of wisdom. Dr. Haley's perseverence has brought about several major changes in the curriculum at Airline, so that the students can better themselves. Making Airline's academics superior, Dr. Haley has given each student a priceless opportunity to learn from experienced teachers and counselors. Dr. Haley's motivation and determination show up in everything he does.







For Every Airline Student



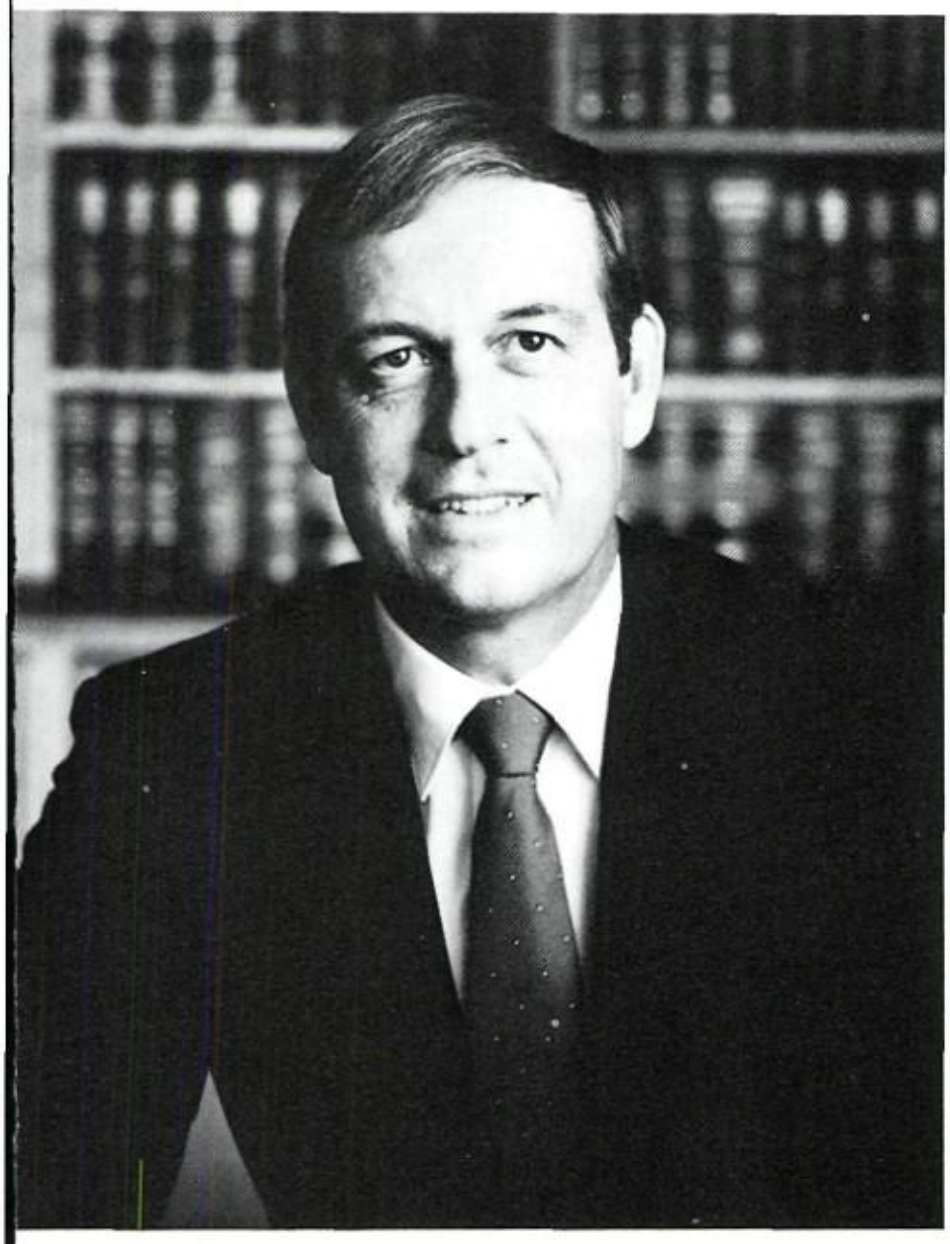
The Assistant Principals Did More

Mrs. L. W. Walker
Assistant Principal

Mrs. Lacyne Walker has enjoyed her third year at Airline as an assistant principal. She was concerned about the day-to-day problems of the students and was always there for them to talk to. The time she spent in the lunchroom with "her kids" was important to her. Mrs. Walker felt that she was able to get to know AHS students better when they were in the relaxed atmosphere of the cafeteria. Her other concerns as assistant principal were that pupils will have more respect for school rules and property.

Mrs. Walker and her husband, Mr. A.W. Walker, have two grown children. When not working diligently at school, she could be found doing crossword puzzles, gardening, sewing, or spending time with her grandchildren. She has been an asset to our staff and truly cares about Airline's student body.

Than Just Their Jobs



Mr. Jon R. Walden
Assistant Principal

Mr. Jon Walden was an assistant principal at Airline for the second year. Before taking over this position, he had been a teacher and counselor at AHS for eighteen years. Mr. Walden's optimisim and enthusiasm challenged everyone here to have pride in his school. He believed in the abilities of the students and encouraged them to work hard to attain their goals.

Elaine, Mr. Walden's supportive wife, taught at Airline for eighteen years, too. They have two children, John and Sunny. John is in the eighth grade and Sunny is in the fourth grade. Mr. Walden spent his spare time on his farm. There he loved riding the tractor, working with his family, and taking care of the horses. All of Airline looks forward to having him as assistant principal again next year and seeing what new ideas he will have.

Made A Difference

Since Airline's counselors and secretaries care about each student, everyone has benefited. Even though they put in many hours every day, they are always ready to help. The secretaries keep track of the piles of paperwork, such as excuses, attendance, locator cards, announcements, and much more. The counselors handle class scheduling, grades, and aid with family problems. They also help students plan their futures. Life is much easier because of them.

Airline Strove To Meet Important Goals

The goals faculty members set or themselves determine how vell they teach. Most teachers know this and have definite plans t the beginning of the year that guide them through to the end.

A majority of teachers concern themselves primarily with their pupils. They concentrate on preparing, instructing, and communicating with students effectively. These special teachers try to be influential morally and intellectually. Their goal is also to encourage youth to be proud of themselves and their school work.

Another group of teachers want high school to be fun, as well as instructive. They work hard to keep their students interested. Creativity is stressed and ideas are discussed in these teachers' classrooms.

The faculty seems to agree that being the best teacher possible is of paramount importance. Their overall goal is to do their job with patience, care, and understanding. Our teachers want the students to learn not only the required material, but also to learn about themselves.

Teachers Really Did Have Pets

Many of Airline's teachers have pets at home, as well as in the classroom. Cats and dogs are the most popular pets owned by some of the faculty, such as Susan Willis' Irish wolfhound, Kaye Chandler's doberman, and Ann Allred's Himalayan cat. Pets like these, along with hamsters, birds, and fish are also quite common.

However, some teachers' pets are a little offbeat. Goats, raccoons, and even alligators are a few of these oddities. But Nancy Allen's collection of Teddy bears is probably the best example of a teacher's pets.

Interest In Activities

Teachers Get "Psyched-Up"

Airline High School's teachers 'psyche" themselves up for school n many ways. Many teachers rely on prayers to prepare them for the lay. Some drink coffee or soft drinks, while others take hot showers. Teachers may use more original methods. Glenda Martin says that he listens to "Eye of the Tiger" on her way to school. Amy Hawrylak likes to watch the sun rise as she drives over the Jimmy Davis Bridge. A few teachers said knowing the duties of the day ahead was all they needed to encourage them to give their best.

Mrs. Ellen Boose Was Airline's

This year's Teacher of the Year at Airline was Mrs. Ellen Boose, or Lady MacBoose, as she was called by her students. Mrs. Boose teaches Senior A-level and Junior B-level English classes. She graduated from Louisiana Tech and has been teaching for ten years.

Mrs. Boose cares about her students and helps them to appreciate literature. "Lady MacBoose" is a favorite of her students because of her love of fun and the close ties she makes with each of them. She especially enjoys those students who are really interested in English. She makes studying English an adventure and puts a great deal of effort into each lesson.

Students and teachers alike value Mrs. Boose's friendship and agree that Teacher of the Year is a valid title for this valuable lady. Mrs. Boose certainly deserved this award because of her constant dedication to her profession and her special teaching ability. Hopefully, she will continue her tradition of excellence at Airline High School for many years.

The Valkyries
Promoted School Spirit

The Valkyries, Airline's spirit organization, had quite an exciting year. This year the pep squad had new uniforms: a practice, a winter, and a spring uniform. The pep squad began work this summer before school had started. Their hard work paid off. They attended all of the football games and many of the basketball games. Along with attending sports events, the girls sold spirit ribbons and candy, and marched in the Homecoming parade.

The pep squad's sponsor, Miss Stoll and their colonel, Candace Pfeuffer, worked together to form a more organized squad. Their efforts were rewarded with one of the most sharply dressed, energetic pep squads Airline High School has ever seen.

The Blue Angels Were Alive And Kicking

The 24 member Blue Angels brought much pride to Airline this year. The officers attended Officer Camp in Dallas and were chosen most admired team and outstanding officer group. They received superior ratings on all their performances. Marnie Marlar was chosen for All-American Drill Team. The group has competed at the Dallas Mavericks Competition in Dallas, the Mardi Gras Competition in New Orleans, and the Miss American Drill Team Pageant in Los Angeles. They also performed at the Independence Bowl and various other functions in the area. These girls should be congratulated on a great year.

The Airline Troubadours
An Excellent Year

The Airline choirs had a very busy year. Not only were they involved in three super concerts, but they also went to many different festivals as well as singing at the mall.

The Troubadours put on their annual fall and spring concerts, including such songs as "The Greastest Love of All" and "You've Lost That Loving Feeling." Solos were numerous this year, as everyone wanted to be on stage. They included Yvette Pawlow singing "Cherish" and Scott (Kermit) Anderson with "The Rainbow Connection." Everyone agreed that this was the best year ever.

RICHARD GOFF PLAYED guitar and sang "Stairway to Heaven" in the Troubadours' first concert.

The Big Blue Band
Showed Spirit And Pride

The Airline Band was probably the busiest group in our school. Its schedule was filled with band camp in the summer, football games, pep rallies, parades, concerts, competition in various festivals, and District Honor Band. They went to Corpus Christi this spring to march in the Buccaneer Days Festival Parade - and were able to enjoy some fun and relaxation, too.

A highlight this year was their performance of the "Axel F" instrumental. The principal arrangement was by Robert Turchick. The theme was played on keyboards and bells with drums adding the exciting beat. The rest of the band put on a complicated show during the piece.

The Big Blue Band was a family that worked together to excel. Under the masterful direction of Larry Stanley and Patty Palmer, the band's many accomplishments deserved more praise than they sometimes received. Even so, the band members always displayed pride in what they did and in their school.

Varsity Went To State Playoffs

The Varsity Basketball team has left quite an impression on AHS. They remained undefeated long into the season. They had some close calls such as in the AHS- W. Monroe game and in the AHS- Lafayette game, but the Vikes came through. With a large crowd always cheering them on, the Vikes were determined not to lose. They set a record at the Bossier game for remaining undefeated thirty games in a row. Coach St. Andre and the Vikings are very proud of them.

We won the District Championship for the second year in a row plus it gives us a record of four championships out of the last six years. The only way it could have been a better season would have been for the team to go to Baton Rouge and play in the state tournament."

Getting Into The Swing Of Things

Softball anyone? This sport seems to be all fun and laughs. Our girls showed that this wasn't all there is to the game. They put a lot of hard work and pride into each game they played. The 1985 softball team consisted of thirteen girls from Freshmen to Seniors. Coach Terry Slack took on the difficult job of coaching these girls. Although they practiced with great anticipation they closed their season with 6 losses, 2 wins and 1 tie. They all look forward to a better season next year.

Football is a rough sport filled with mixed emotions of anger, excitement, and school spirit. Our varsity players began their season with a 0-3 loss in their game against Loyola Prep. Verlon Cross: Skiing

Verlon Cross was a junior this past year at Airline. He has skiied for most of his life. Verlon placed first overall in 1983, '84, and '85 in the South Central Regional Barefoot Tournament. This past year he placed first overall at Crystal Lake in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and at the Triple Cross Open. He also placed sixth overall at the National Barefoot Tournament in Tampa, Florida. When asked what he liked most about skiing, he replied "I like getting to travel to different places." Verlon is a superb athlete and Airline is very proud of him.

The Vikings Never Gave Up

LTHOUGH SOME STRONG points to the game were evident, the Flyers feathered the Vikes. Stanley Brown and Willie Smith gave good punt nd kickoff returns during the night. Bo Spataro, senior receiver, caught two key passes from quarterback Blaine Laughlin and during the game aine ran a few yards of his own. The running backs, James Sweeney and Theodore Davis, had a hard running game. The offense and defense ere strong, but because of a few costly errors and penalties, Loyola won 13-0.

HE KNIGHTS SPEARED the Vikes at the Caddo Parish Stadium. Airline's running backs had a great night. With a short pass from quaterback aine Laughlin, James Sweeney rushed 25 yards and Theodore Davis ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Six points were gained when Willie Smith ade a 66 yard touchdown pass reception run. Willie ended with a total of 72 yards. Airline did not benefit from the many Knight mistakes, but e Knights benefitted many times. They gained a touchdown from an intercepted pass. Knights-21, AHS-12.

ANLEY BROWN SCORED early in the Haughton-Airline game with a 2 yard touchdown leap. Eddie Plaza made the extra point. The AHS fense did well in holding back the Bucs until the second quarter when the Bucs scored. The halftime score was 7-6 AHS. The Vikes could not ld the Bucs off. Haughton scored and then went for the 2 point conversion. The Bucs went on to score in the final minutes of the game. Bucs- , AHS-7.

S PLOUGHED OVER the Falcons on the Viking home field. Stanley Brown made two of the three touchdowns and Clifford Russell made the er touchdown that won the game. The Falcons did not have a chance because the Vikings were determined to win. The defense dominated game and the offense moved the ball effectively. Airline won, 18-0.

E DEFENSE PLAYED a great game as Airline brewed Byrd. Stanley Brown scored two touchdowns, intercepted a pass, and had 17 rushes for 90 ds. Theodore Davis ran 100 yards during the game and Bubba Toney scored his first touchdown of the season from a short pass thrown by ine Laughlin. Vikes-0, Byrd-0.

EN OAKS EDGED out the Vikings as they played Airline's homecoming game. The game was full of surprises, though. Willie Smith scored the touchdown on a 6 yard pass set up by Theodore Davis. After Blaine Laughlin scored the second touchdown, Eddie Plaza recovered his own ide kick. Unfortunately, Green Oaks benefitted from a few miscalled plays by the referees and scored a total of three touchdowns and two a points. Green Oaks-20, AHS-13.

PTAIN SHREVE COOKED AHS. Airline scored only one touchdown in the second half. The Gators led early in the game and by halftime the re was 35-0. The Vikings could not seem to catch up to the Gators because Captain Shreve gained one more touchdown before the game was r leaving the score Captain Shreve 41, Airline 6.

AIN THE RIVALS, Bossier and Airline, came together to fight for the trophy given to the winning team. Defense played a major part in this e. During the first half, Airline managed to gain a safety. The offense warmed up during the second half of the game, but the Bearkats were first to score followed by Airline. That was not enough, though. The Bearkats scored once more beating Airline 14 to 8.

RLINE KNOCKED OVER Natchitoches at Turpin Stadium in Natchitoches. Stanley Brown scored twice for the Vikings and rushed 63 yards. ine Laughlin made a 30 yard pass caught by Stanley Brown which brought a touchdown and, later in the game, he made a 41 yard sprint into the d zone. Theodore Davis rushed for 106 yards and also made a 36 yard dash into the end zone for another six points. Blaine Laughlin scored on a amble from the one yard line. AHS-27, Chiefs-20.

LINE PETRIFIED PARKWAY for a 7-6 victory. The Vikes held back the Panthers with a little help from Willie Smith. He broke up a 2 point version attempt. Airline had a strong game. Huey McCray made 15 tackles and Theodore Davis rushed for 135 yards. Sean also punted seven s for an average of 42 yards. AHS-7, Panthers-6.

Cheer On

The Airline cheerleaders have done quite a bit for the Vikes in the past year. The eight girls, sponsored by Kathye Blackburn, have planned the many pep rallies we have had before the football games, painted posters and banners to show the Viking spirit, and prepared the football and basketball banquets.

The cheerleaders have participated in many competitions and have won many awards. They competed at Southpark Mall and won 2nd place, received a Superior rating at the NCA Regional Competition in Dallas, and won five Superior ratings at the NSU Cheerleader Camp. Linnea Fayard was chosen as a finalist for the All American Cheerleader Girl. When asked what they enjoyed most about the year, they said cheering for the Vikings and being part of the pride and winning spirit of the Vikings.

OUR CHEERLEADERS ENTHUSIASTICALLY cheered for our football team.

Stephanie Newkirk: Swimming

We have many outstanding athletes here at Airline, but one Freshman Vike stands out above all others. Stephanie Newkirk indulged in many activities such as participating in Vicki's School of Dance and the Greenacres Mustang Prancers. The main reason we have recognized Stephanie is for her excellent swimming ability. She was a member of the Bossier Raquetball Club Swimteam and the C.O.S.S.T. Stephanie has been swimming for five years and has won over 100 ribbons and medals. Keep up the good work!

Girls Were

BE CHOOSY.

Selecting each student who attends Centenary College is one of the most important decisions we make.

Our students are achievers; they are motivated to succeed in challenging scholastic programs.

They are leaders, shaping and directing a wide variety of extra-curricular activities.

They are open to new ideas and talk frequently and freely with faculty, staff, and peers.

They are fun-loving – they reach out, care, and take a personal interest.

Selecting the right college may be one of the most important decisions you will ever make.

Be choosy.
We are.

Do you need a reason to join the Louisiana National Guard?

Well, here are some very good incentives- -

FREE COLLEGE TUITION:

State law provides exemption from tuition payments in all state supported Colleges in Louisiana for all active members of the Louisiana National Guard. This exemption may be claimed for five (5) separate years or until receipt of a bachelors degree, whichever occurs first.

$1500 ENLISTMENT BONUS
or
$4000 IN EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE

High school seniors and graduates who enlist in certain National Guard units may receive a $1500 enlistment bonus, or $4000 in educational assistance.

SPLIT TRAINING PROGRAM

Split training means that your Basic Training and Advanced Individual Training in the National Guard (which must be completed within a twelve (12) month time frame) can be staggered to fit your personal schedule.

For example, you can take Basic Training the summer of your junior year. Consider it a paid full-time summer job. During your senior year of high school, you will go to the monthly National Guard meetings. Consider it a paid part-time job. Then you can take your Advanced Individual Training the next summer, be paid for that too, and be home in time to attend college, business or vocational school in September. That's two summers of full-time empolyment, and two years of part-time employment.

Low Cost, High Education at Bossier Parish Community College

If you're interested in pursuing a college degree, training for better employment, or simply investigating an area of interest with the aid of a highly qualified instructor, then Bossier Parish Community College can be of great assistance to you.

You can afford to attend a community college where there is LOW TUITION and small classes.

Bossier Parish Community College is accredited by the Louisiana State Department of Education. All credits are fully transferable to state colleges and universities under the Board of Trustees. Bossier Parish Community College is a candidate for accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Selected academic credits are transferable to the LSU System.

If you are considering . . .

- •pursuing a bachelor's degree
- •attending a business school
- •gaining an associate degree in Business Administration, Office Administration or Law Enforcement
- •training in technical areas
- •gaining college credit as a high school senior

Investigate Bossier Parish Community College. As a community college, Bossier offers two years of academic study for the transfer of credits to other degree programs for completion of a bachelor's degree.

Our two-year terminal programs offer preparation for immediate employment in business, secretarial, law enforcement, respiratory therapy, and other fields.

Bossier Parish Community College cooperates with other colleges and business organizations, including Northwestern School of Nursing, American Institute of Banking, and law enforcement agencies, in providing the academic subjects and training classes necessary for a degree or a certificate.

Bossier also has a special program for high school seniors who have a cumulative 3.0 average which enables them to attend college while still in high school.

Explore this concept of post-secondary education at secondary education prices. This community college concept is a new and very valuable addition to education in Louisiana.

In the fall semester of 1980 Bossier Parish Community College was housed in its new administrative and class-room facility.

This new building will provide improved class-room and laboratory facilities with room for expansion and future growth.

Broken Dreams

Our paths consist of broken dreams,
Endless mirrors of shattered glass,
Distant visions, confused, forgotten,
Time stands still and will not pass,
Ideas, cast away like a small child's toy,
Our fairytale castle becomes a grain of sand.
Our path becomes two divided lines,
I reach into emptiness to hold your hand,
But all that's left is open space.
Light breaks in and darkness parts,
And two white doves fly toward the sun,
And release the locks that bind our hearts.
